EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1901.

TWO CENTS

UNDER ARREST A FEW MINUTES

Andy Stafford Captured By the United Efforts of Three Well-
Armed Officers.

ONE READ HIM THE WARRANTS

They Were So Many That He Grew
Weary And Took French Leave.
Returned to His Slumbers And Made Good His Escape.

The unsuccessful attempt to arrest
Andy Stafford at Congo yesterday did not discourage those brave officers from New Cumberland and Toronto, so they came back last night, fully confident of success.

Constable West, of New Cumberland, had about a dozen warrants and several revolvers and other dangerous weapons, and Constable Paisley, of Toronto, was similarly equipped and also had requisition papers from the governor of Ohio.

Andy was wanted on so many charges that these two stalwart officers thought he might hurt somebody.
They, therefore, deputized Mr. New-lan, the largest and strongest resident of Congo, and after bountifully supplying him with the accoutrements of a constable, made straight for the house which, it is alleged, Andy and his gang made their headquarters.

They placed Newlan outside the rear door with two revolvers and bravely mounted the front steps and entered the house. Some one had told them that they ought to look around inside the house, so they obtained the proprietor's consent and began a search.

In the rooms upstairs there is a closet that opens into either room.
Paisley opened the door on one side and Andy Stafford, the much wanted man, stepped out at the other side right in the arms of Officer West.
West did not put his hands on him, but flashed a bunch of warrants at Stafford and told him they wanted him. This, no doubt, was news to Andy.

Andy seated himself on the bed and said the jig was up and West seated himself beside the offender and began to read warrants. Officer Paisley had come into the room and also seven of the boys of the family who started to play "pig in the parlor" with Paisley as the porker.

Andy got tired hearing so many warrants and shot down the stairs while Officer West gazed after him in astonishment. Special Officer New-lan had either gone to sleep at the back door or was not watching. Stafford passed out into the back yard and climbed a little apple tree.

The trio of brave officers returned to the ferry boat and Andy returned to bed. Some one told the officers and they came back again, but by this time Andy had left for Jethro and they searched in vain. They slept in the ferry boat all night, going out each hour in search of the missing man, but they did not get him and returned to their homes this morning.

The residents of Congo were indignant yesterday; they merely laugh today.

Small Fire at Sunnyside.

A small fire occurred at 6:40 this morning at the Nice property on Florence street, Sunnyside. The blaze started from the chimney and spread to the shingle roof. The department was called and the fire extinguished.

Little damage was done.

JETHRO EXCITED.

Reported Drowning Attracted a Crowd And the Supposed Victim
Came to See.

It is seldom that the quiet suburb of Jethro is wrought up as it was yesterday afternoon when it was reported that a small boy had broken through the ice and had drowned in the river about 100 yards below the old glass house.

In 10 minutes the river bank was black with people, no less than 200 residents of that locality being present to witness the work of rescue.

It seems that Earl Smith, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Smith, of Jethro, had taken advantage of the river being closed and had spent most of his spare time upon the ice since last Sunday.

He told several companions yesterday that he proposed going to the other side and started off alone. He had been told that it would be dangerous to attempt to make the trip as it had been thawing all day and the ice was very rotten. Not long afterward his companions went to the beach and not finding the youngster at once gave the alarm.

About the time the people had all assembled young Earl came gliding down the Ohio shore from the vicinity of the flint mill and was taken in hand by his father, who was among the spectators, and as he was very careful to preserve the skate straps, it is quite likely there was an accounting at the Smith home in Jethro.

TIME ALMOST UP.

Street Railway Has a Few Days More
in Which to Comply With Terms of Franchise.

There is some speculation as to what council will do when the 30 days have expired which the street railway company was given to comply with the terms of its franchise in regard to painting poles, planking crossings and putting on more cars. The letter which Solicitor Gaston received from Manager Healy stated that the company would comply with the demands of council just as soon as possible, and more cars have been put on, but the rest of the work has never been done.

The 30 days are almost up, and Solicitor Gaston says at the end of that time he will report to council and take such action as that body may decide upon.

TELEPHONE EXCHANGE.

Work on the New Central Office Building Soon to be Started.

Just as soon as the weather permits, work on the new offices of the Central District and Printing Telegraph company will be commenced.
The building will be three stories, fire proof, with offices of the company on the second floor and operating room on the first floor.

The company will occupy the entire building. Work on the underground system to be put in this city will also start in the spring.

Cupid Was Busy Last Month.

Lisbon, March 2.—(Special.)—During the month of February 31 marriage licenses have been issued from the office of the probate judge. This compares favorably with the same month in former years.

N. B. OF O. P. TO DECLARE STRIKE

Unless the Manufacturers Agree to Treat With the Men In the Settlement of Disputes

STORY OF A CORRESPONDENT

A Number of the Prominent Members of the National Executive Board
Were Seen Today And Refused to
Be Quoted in Any Manner.

An East Liverpool correspondent of the Commoner and Glassworker, signing himself Gallaher, has the following somewhat startling statement in this week's issue:

"While things seem to be going along smoothly between the national officers and the manufacturers, still it has become known that the national officers are very much dissatisfied of late over the actions of the manufacturers. The refusal of the manufacturers to appoint a committee to deal with the Brotherhood regarding the questions adopted at the last convention has palsied the hands of the national officers, unless they wish to order a strike. The fact that the different locals are demanding the enforcement of these questions has made it very unpleasant and disagreeable for the national officers, who are endeavoring to reach a peaceful settlement of the questions at issue and thereby avert trouble. But the constant clamoring of the operatives for the enforcement of these measures, and the disagreeable tactics of the manufacturers, have proven too much for the officers, and some of them, who heretofore have been very conservative, now very earnestly favor resorting to the most strenuous measures.

"I have it from good authority that unless things take a different turn within the next month an ultimatum will be presented to the manufacturers, which, in addition to the questions heretofore submitted to them, will contain a demand for a general increase of wages.

"The reason for asking a general increase, and which is a logical one, is that the manufacturers have recently increased their selling price, and the operatives feel that they should share in this increase, for if in the future the manufacturers should be compelled to reduce the selling price they will then, in all probability, call upon the operatives to share in the reduction.

"It is to be hoped that a strike will be averted, but if the manufacturers continue in their present methods a strike must be the inevitable conclusion. They have refused the Brother-hood's request for a conference, which leaves nothing for the officials to do but demand, and having made a demand they must consistently enforce their demands."

Pres. Hughes, Secretary Duffy and several other members of the national organization were seen, but refused to be quoted.

KILNMEN'S CENSUS.

Enumerator's Report Shows 383 Employed in the City.

Kilnmen's union No. 9 met in regular session last evening in Brotherhood hall.

The attendance was very large, and a number of matters of more than ordinary importance were disposed of.

Among these was the hearing of the report of George Smith, who had been appointed at a previous meeting to take the census of the kilnmen of the city. Mr. Smith's report was an interesting one, and will be a valuable addition to their already large batch of statistics.

The report shows there are just 380
kilnmen engaged at the trade in East Liverpool, 90 of this number being apprentices.

It also shows that the kilnmen's local union has more members than any other connected with the Brotherhood, and that practically all the workmen employed at kilnwork are members of the union.

POTTERY PROJECT DISCUSSED.

Salem Stands a Chance of Getting a
$65,000 Plant.

Salem, March 2.—The board of trade meeting to discuss a new pottery project was largely attended. Rollin B.
Heaton presented the matter, saying it was the intention to build a threekiln pottery, 320 feet in length, large enough for five kilns, if necessary.
It was calculated that the investment would approximate $65,000. The pottery men are anxious to get at work at once. They require five acres and a bonus.

The meeting was a success and after arranging some preliminary details and appointing a committee to have matters in more definite form by Saturday evening, adjournment was made to that evening.

ABOUT THE POTTERIES.

The clay shops of the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery were idle yesterday, there being a shortage of clay.

A number of employees of the National plant, who have been idle during the past week, resumed work today.

The National China company resumed operations this morning after a week's shut down. The shut down was caused by a broken pump.

Ed Cook returned yesterday from Tiffin, where he erected three new decorating kilns for the Great Western Pottery company.

Engraver George Walker, of Trenton, N. J., has received an offer from the East Palestine Pottery company, but owing to local business prospects
he did not accept.

William Radcliffe, of East Trenton, has accepted a position with the East Palestine pottery, in the dipping department.

Local Laundryman Will Attend.

The annual convention of the National Laundrymen's association will be held in Columbus March 11 and 12.
Inquiry among local laundrymen developed the fact that but one representative will be present from East Liverpool. James R. Hill, of the Woodbine Steam Laundry, is a member of the organization, and expects to be present. Mr. Hill will leave here on Sunday night, March 10, and remain throughout the sessions, returning on Wednesday.

Battleax Complained.

Bessie Fortner, generally known as "Battle Ax," has complained for several days to the authorities in regard to the annoyance occasioned by the frequent visits of "Crip" Cain to her home in Dewdrop alley. Last night Chief Thompson, Chief Morley with his bloodhound; Fireman Wood with an army musket and Fireman Mc-Millan, went to the house and made a search for the offender. The quest of the officers was not successful.

A Writ Was Issued.

Justice H. P. McCarron this morning issued a writ of restitution in the case of Albert Taylor versus George Culbertson for forcible detention.

MRS. GELTCH WANTS DIVORCE

Suit Entered by a Salem Women
Who Claims Her Husband Deserted Her.

SETTLING A SUICIDE'S ESTATE

An East Liverpool Case Appealed to the County Court—Matters Before
the Probate Judge And Other Cases Now Receiving Attention.

Lisbon, March 2.—(Special.)—Margaret Geltch, of Salem, has entered suit in court against Andrew Geltch, asking for a divorce and reasonable alimony. The parties were married in October, 1895, in Canton, and have one son.

Mrs. Geltch says she was abandoned by defendant last December. As an heir of Andrew Geltch the defendant owns an interest in lot 987 in Fra-zier's addition to Salem, valued at $400, part of which she asks for the support of herself and child.

The will of the late John McMillan, of Salem township, has been admitted to probate, and upon application Katherine McMillan and H. D. Patterson were appointed executors, with $700 bond. George Frederick, John H.
Guthrie and Frank Betts were appointed to appraise the property.

Andrew Geltch, who committed suicide in Salem a week ago, left no will and the court today appointed J. B.
Baker as administrator of the estate with a $2,400 bond. A. E. Hanna, R.
C. Cridler and Charles McMillan will make the appraisement.

The Pennsylvania company this morning paid $1,200 for the death of John J. Hainley, who was killed at Wellsville in August, 1899. The settlement was effected in probate court after Judge Boone had appointed John and Margaret Hainley administrators of the estate with $2,400 bond.

No will was found in the estate of Edgar F. Phillpot, late of Washington township, and Leah Phillpot was appointed administrator with $150 bond.

The case of Lewis Bros. against James A. Swaney was appealed here this morning from Squire McLane's court at East Liverpool. The plaintiff sued on a book account and got judgment in the amount. The defendant appealed.

A marriage license has been issued to Charles W. Heim and Miss Irene Glass, of New Chambersburg.

SUED FOR SELLING OLEO.

E. A. Geon, of This City, a Defendant
at Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 2.—(Special.)—Yesterday afternoon in the court of Justice Riddle was commenced an action against Ed A. Geon, of East Liverpool, on a charge preferred by the state dairy and food department for selling oleomargarine contrary to law.

The Capitol City Dairy company, of Columbus, from whom the oleomargarine is alleged to have been bought by Geon, is defending the case, and under an agreement with Geon, will pay all expenses of the trial or any fine which may be assessed.

Quiet at Police Headquarters.

Business at police court took a sudden slump last night and there was not an arrest. Frank Sheppard, who occupied a cell yesterday, managed to secure the necessary $5.60 to secure his release.

SETTLING A SUICIDE'S ESTATE

An East Liverpool Case Appealed to the County Court—Matters Before the Probate Judge And Other Cases Now Receiving Attention.

Lisbon, March 2.—(Special.)—Margaret Geltch, of Salem, has entered suit in court against Andrew Geltch, asking for a divorce and reasonable alimony. The parties were married in October, 1895, in Canton, and have one son.

Mrs. Geltch says she was abandoned by defendant last December. As an heir of Andrew Geltch the defendant owns an interest in lot 987 in Frazier's addition to Salem, valued at $400, part of which she asks for the support of herself and child.

The will of the late John McMillan, of Salem township, has been admitted to probate, and upon application Katherine McMillan and H. D. Patterson were appointed executors, with $700 bond. George Frederick, John H. Guthrie and Frank Betts were appointed to appraise the property.

Andrew Geltch, who committed suicide in Salem a week ago, left no will and the court today appointed J. B. Baker as administrator of the estate with a $2,400 bond. A. E. Hanna, R. C. Cridler and Charles McMillan will make the appraisement.

The Pennsylvania company this morning paid $1,200 for the death of John J. Hainley, who was killed at Wellsville in August, 1899. The settlement was effected in probate court after Judge Boone had appointed John and Margaret Hainley administrators of the estate with $2,400 bond.

No will was found in the estate of Edgar F. Phillpot, late of Washington township, and Leah Phillpot was appointed administrator with $150 bond.

The case of Lewis Bros. against James A. Swaney was appealed here this morning from Squire McLane's court at East Liverpool. The plaintiff sued on a book account and got judgment in the amount. The defendant appealed.

A marriage license has been issued to Charles W. Heim and Miss Irene Glass, of New Chambersburg.

SUED FOR SELLING OLEO.

E. A. Geon, of This City, a Defendant at Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 2.—(Special.)—Yesterday afternoon in the court of Justice Riddle was commenced an action against Ed A. Geon, of East Liverpool, on a charge preferred by the state dairy and food department for selling oleomargarine contrary to law.

The Capital City Dairy company, of Columbus, from whom the oleomargarine is alleged to have been bought by Geon, is defending the case, and under an agreement with Geon, will pay all expenses of the trial or any fine which may be assessed.

Business at police court took a sudden slump last night and there was not an arrest. Frank Sheppard, who occupied a cell yesterday, managed to secure the necessary $5.60 to secure his release.

EAST END.

BUGGY OVERTURNED.

Boy Occupants Had a Narrow Escape.
Horse Ran Away And Vehicle Was Wrecked.

Albert Kreider and Louis Holsman narrowly escaped serious injury by being thrown under an overturned buggy attached to a runaway horse near Ralston's crossing yesterday afternoon.

The horse took fright at a passing freight and reared and plunged wildly, overturning the buggy and throwing both gentlemen underneath the bed. Fortunately the shafts gave way just as the horse started forward and the boys were left underneath the buggy, while the frightened animal dashed up the road. The horse was caught by a teamster coming down the road and the boys escaped with some bad bruises and a good shaking up. The buggy was badly damaged.

ALEX CHAFFIN EXPLAINS.

How He Missed a Place on the Ticket.
Another Chance.

Alex Chaffin was busy all day yesterday explaining just how it happened and outlining his political policy for the future.

In answer to an inquiry as to why he didn't send his name to the central committee he said:

Alex states further that he has already spent $20 and that he doesn't propose to lose it, as he is going to have a petition signed by the residents of Chaffinville, asking the county central committee that he be permitted to run on the ticket as an independent candidate. J. J. Weisen suggested that Alex need not be alarmed, as he will now be nominated on the Democratic ticket, where he formerly belonged.

NO WORD FROM COWAN.

Relatives Still Wait for Tidings of the Missing Man.

Regarding a rumor that William Cowan, the missing salesman, had been heard from, report from Beaver Falls states that Mrs. Cowan has had no word from him. She heard last week that he had been seen in Wheeling, but investigated the rumor, and found it baseless.

Relatives of the missing man in this city state that he has not been heard from since his sudden disappearance, and that they have no idea where he is.

East End Notes.

Mrs. George Clendenning is very ill with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Thomas Strain is visiting her parents in Salineville.

Miss May Lisby will spend Sunday with her mother at Toronto, O.

Charles Pinkerton has just returned from a week's visit to Sebring.

Miss Nellie Duncan will entertain the National club at her home Monday evening.

Mrs. Washington Hoskins, of Zanesville, O., is visiting relatives in the East End.

May Be in the League.

Winnie Mercer has not decided where he will play ball this year, but says he will know within a week. In response to an inquiry he replied that his friends here might be surprised when they learned where he had signed for the season of 1901. It is almost a certainty that Mercer will join hands with the players, and may be a member of the American league this year.

CONFINED TO BED.

John Neal Suffering From a Dog's Bite—The Father Had the Animal Shot.

John W. Neal, who was bitten on the leg by a Scotch terrier dog on Washington street last Monday, is now confined to his bed as a result. The injured member has swollen greatly and pains him severely.

While little apprehension is felt, it is barely possible that the canine may have been mad.

Complaint was made at police headquarters, and the dog, which belonged to Bentley Pope, was shot by Officer Davis yesterday afternoon. It was not a vicious animal, but had acted rather queerly during the past few days.

Mayor Davidson advised that the dog be locked up and watched for a while, but the injured boy's father seemed anxious to have it killed at once.

BOOM AT THE COUNTY SEAT

Bright Prospects, Present and Future, for Lisbon.

Lisbon certainly has the call this summer for big improvements and big increase in population. The demand for houses is so great that at least 100 families are turned away without houses. Of course, says the Patriot, this will not last long. By December 150 new dwellings will be constructed and all may be accommodated. The tin mill employs about 800 people, the sewer pipe works 300, the coal mines near Lisbon 400, the clay works and fire brick works, soon to be started, about 450. In all nearly 1,800 people are employed at remunerative wages. That makes Lisbon a good place to do business.

PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED.

Otho Club Met at the Home of Mrs. Ralston, Second Street.

The Otho club was very pleasantly entertained last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Ralston, Second street.

About 35 guests were present and the evening was delightfully spent in various games. A dainty luncheon was served at a late hour.

Old Bill Pritts on the Stage.

Uniontown, Pa., March 2.—A novel show was given here Wednesday night. It was an idea of the prisoners in the county jail, and they made a success of it. All the minstrel and other talent was drawn from the prison. A temporary platform was built in the main corridor for a stage, and the first performer was old Bill Pritts, who was introduced by the manager as "the famous moonshiner of Saltlick township." Pritts bowed and smiled, and then stage fright struck him and he had to buck down without being able to say a word.

BEYOND DOUBT

These Facts Must Convince Every East Liverpool Reader.

That which follows is the experience of a resident of East Liverpool. Incredulity cannot exist about the statement; because it can readily be investigated.

Mr. Henry Bevington, who resides at the corner of Avondale and Bradshaw avenue, says: "During three years I had attacks of dull, steady aching in the back. When stooping or sitting for some time it would change to a quick pang as I arose to an upright position. My back tired out easily when walking or standing long, and I often had headaches, dizziness, and in the morning great depression. I took medicines, many of them, but found Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at the W. & W. pharmacy, to be more suitable for my complaint than anything that I had ever tried."

NEWS OF THE STATE.

SOMERS, OF THE LEAGUE, ON THE BASE BALL SITUATION.

Apparently Protective Association Members Are Free to Sign With Either League.

Cleveland, March 2.—The Leader today was expected to print the following in relation to the baseball situation:

"Vice President Somers, of the American league, received a telegram from Charles Zimmer, who is in Washington, telling Mr. Somers to 'sign players; the agreement amounts to nothing.' Somers replied to the telegram that he would make the information public, so that the players could know where they stand.

"Rumors have been current the past few days that desertions from the National to the American leagues would occur before long. Zimmer's telegram seems to give liberty to do so.

"The players can now sign with whichever league they please, and will sign to the best advantage.

"Mr. Somers stated that the American league would give the National league one of the hardest fights it ever had, and would eventually attain supremacy in the baseball world.

"James Collins, the third baseman of the Boston National league club, will be in this city Saturday, and it will then be learned whether he has signed with the National or the American league for the coming season. The Boston management of the National league club is said to have offered Collins a very large salary to retain his services. If Collins goes with the American league it will probably be as manager of their Boston club."

Chicago, March 2.—The Record today was expected to say: "Third Baseman Bradley and Pitcher Garvin have signed with the Cleveland American league team."

LARGE SUM INVOLVED.

Rockefeller Defendant in a Case Filed in the Ohio Supreme Court, at Columbus.

Columbus, March 2.—A suit in which John D. Rockefeller is defendant and the sum involved is $275,763 was filed in the supreme court by Judge Stevenson Burke, attorney for James Corrigan, formerly a wealthy vessel owner of Cleveland, who, in 1895, being in financial embarrassment, pledged 2,500 shares of Standard Oil stock to Rockefeller to secure a loan of the above sum. Corrigan claimed that Rockefeller had been trying to squeeze him and force him to sell at a figure much below the market value of the shares. Judge Burke has the equity of Corrigan in the shares assigned to himself.

Ferrell's Remains Sent Home.

Columbus, O., March 2.—The body of Rosslyn W. Ferrell, the murderer, was removed from the penitentiary early yesterday morning and prepared for burial at Steubenville in a purple coffin. Many people viewed the remains, among them Patrick Costlow, father of the girl who was to have married Ferrell. Two roses, said to have been provided by Miss Costlow, are held in the hand of the corpse.

Thomas H. McLean Dean.

Toledo, March 2.—Thomas H. McLean, manager of the Toledo Traction company, died of pneumonia, caused by wounds in the throat, self-inflicted, last Saturday. He was at times manager of the Twenty-third street railway of New York, and of the Citizens' street railway of Indianapolis, and the electric lines in the City of Mexico. He came to Toledo in 1898.

A Romance of War Days.

Akron, O., March 2.—George W. Hulett, of Kent, has gone to Tennessee to marry Mrs. Flora Wiggins. Hulett was shot in a battle during the civil war and was nursed back to health by Flora Lowe, then a beautiful young woman. After the war Hulett returned home and was married. His wife died and a year ago he made a trip south. He traced his nurse of 35 years ago and found that she too had married, but was a widow. He proposed marriage and was accepted.

BUCKEYE BRIEFS.

Mrs. Charles Thayer, a bride, was instantly killed by a train at the station at Dunkirk, O.

At Massillon, William Ries was attacked by a savage mastiff. He was bitten eight times and may die.

The Mahoning Rubber company, Youngstown, capital $400,000, has been incorporated by John Tod, Henry K. Wick, W. Scott Bonnell, H. L. Rowland and John S. McClurg.

The announcement is made by Judge James W. Campbell, of the National Glass company, that the plants of the company will be removed to Cambridge, O., and centralized in the new plant which the company proposes to erect there. He says the burned Rochester (Pa.) plant will be transferred there.

TO TREAT LIQUOR FIENDS.

A Bill in Pennsylvania House—Joint Personal Registration Amendment Offered.

Harrisburg, March 2.—In the house Friday Mr. Maloney, of Venango, introduced, by request, a bill to provide for the care of persons of aggravated intemperate habits in a hospital or state insane asylum until they are cured, and in case of a recurrence of their former habits they shall be re-committed. The Henderson fraternal beneficial association bill was recommended to the committee on banks against the protest of Mr. Scott, of Allegheny. Mr. Bedford, of Philadelphia, offered a resolution that electors committee be discharged from further consideration of the ballot reform bill and that it be placed on the calendar. The resolution goes over under the rule until the next session. Mr. Paul, of Philadelphia, presented a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution for personal registration.

The resolution is identical with that adopted by the last legislature and vetoed by Governor Stone. The supreme court overruled the veto and the resolution was advertised by Secretary of the Commonwealth Grist before the last general election. Should it be adopted by the present legislature it will be voted for at the next legislature. Mr. Paul withdrew his resolution to allow his colleagues to make an argument on the question as to whether it is necessary to refer to committee the proposed amendment to the constitution. Mr. Hall, of Allegheny, offered a resolution, which was adopted, directing the chief clerk to provide a mace for the sergeant-at-arms and that a suitable place be provided for it in the chamber of the house. Mr. Hall explained that the mace was the symbol of authority of the sergeant-at-arms, and under the rules he ought to be provided with one. Mr. Voorhees, of Philadelphia, supported the resolution.

THE LAW VINDICATED.

Lynching Prevented and a Rapist Sentenced, in Illinois.

Carrollton, Ills., March 2.—Guarded by four companies of state militia to protect him from a mob determined on lynching, Albert Shenkle, who, on Dec. 23 last, criminally assaulted the 16-year-old daughter of Charles H. Giller, of Carrollton, was taken from the county jail at Springfield, placed on a special train and brought to Carrollton. Through streets lined with silent spectators he was hurried to the court house. About an hour after the arrival of the train Shenkle had pleaded guilty, received an indeterminate sentence and was on his way to the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Chester.

Consul Wood Dead.

Washington, March 2.—Word was received at the state department that Mr. Alexander Wood, of Pennsylvania, United States consul at Kiel, Germany, died of paralysis. Mr. Wood was appointed consul at Kiel in October, 1899.

Nominated For Consul to Patras.

Washington, March 2.—Frank W. Jackson, of Pennsylvania, was nominated by the president to be consul at Patras, Greece.

Itching Scalp.

Scald Head and the Most Violent Forms of Eczema and Salt Rheum Promptly and Thoroughly Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Among small children, scald head and similar itching skin diseases are most prevalent, and the worst feature is that these ailments, which are apparently trivial at first, almost invariably develop into chronic eczema if neglected.

There is but one treatment that physicians are unanimous in recommending for scald heads and eczema, and that is Dr. Chase's Ointment, the great antiseptic healer. It promptly stops the distressing itching which accompanies these diseases and positively produces a thorough and complete cure. Scores of thousands of men and women stand ready to vouch for the merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has brought about some of the most marvelous cures ever recorded. In justice to yourself and family, you cannot do without it in your home.

Mr. J. H. Grant, 716 Joseph Campan avenue, Detroit, Mich., writes:

"For three years I have been troubled by an intense itching on my body. So terrible was it at times that I could get no rest night or day. I tried all kinds of ointments and blood purifiers, but could get no relief. Mr. H. A. Nicolai of 379 Division street recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. A few applications stopped the itching and I have felt nothing since."

Baby Eczema.

Mr. F. S. Rose of 133 Sixteenth street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"Our baby boy suffered for some time with that wretched eczema, and we were unable to find anything to cure or even relieve his pain. A few applications of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment stopped the itching and healed the sores, and a bright, natural skin now takes their place."

Dr. Chase's Ointment does not cause pain when applied, but soothes the sore or inflamed surface. 50 cents at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Sold in East Liverpool by Charles T. Larkins.

The Star.

"Now," we asked him, "who should be considered the star of your company?"

"The bloodhound, me boy, the bloodhound," said the gentleman that played Legree. "He has something to eat every day, whether the rest do or not."—Indianapolis Press.

Some One Who Would Like It.

"I don't like Murgins' face," said Twynn to Triplett. "He hasn't a pleasing countenance."

"But an auctioneer would like it," suggested Triplett.

"How so?" "It is a countenance forbidding."—Detroit Free Press.

EAST END.

BUGGY OVERTURNED.

Boy Occupants Had a Narrow Escape. Horse Ran Away And Vehicle Was Wrecked.

Albert Kreider and Louis Holman narrowly escaped serious injury by being thrown under an overturned buggy attached to a runaway horse near Ralston's crossing yesterday afternoon.

The horse took fright at a passing freight and reared and plunged wildly, overturning the buggy and throwing both gentlemen underneath the bed. Fortunately the shafts gave way just as the horse started forward and the boys were left underneath the buggy, while the frightened animal dashed up the road. The horse was caught by a teamster coming down the road and the boys escaped with some bad bruises and a good shaking up. The buggy was badly damaged.

ALEX CHAFFIN EXPLAINS.

How He Missed a Place on the Ticket. Another Chance.

Alex Chaffin was busy all day yesterday explaining just how it happened and outlining his political policy for the future.

In answer to an inquiry as to why he didn't send his name to the central committee he said:

Alex states further that he has already spent $20 and that he doesn't propose to lose it, as he is going to have a petition signed by the residents of Chaffinville, asking the county central committee that he be permitted to run on the ticket as an independent candidate. J. J. Weisen suggested that Alex need not be alarmed, as he will now be nominated on the Democratic ticket, where he formerly belonged.

NO WORD FROM COWAN.

Relatives Still Wait for Tidings of the Missing Man.

Regarding a rumor that William Cowan, the missing salesman, had been heard from, report from Beaver Falls states that Mrs. Cowan has had no word from him. She heard last week that he had been seen in Wheeling, but investigated the rumor, and found it baseless.

Relatives of the missing man in this city state that he has not been heard from since his sudden disappearance, and that they have no idea where he is.

East End Notes.

Mrs. George Clendenning is very ill with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Thomas Strain is visiting her parents in Salineville.

Miss May Lisby will spend Sunday with her mother at Toronto, O.

Charles Pinkerton has just returned from a week's visit to Sebring.

Miss Nellie Duncan will entertain the National club at her home Monday evening.

Mrs. Washington Hoskins, of Zanesville, O., is visiting relatives in the East End.

May Be in the League.

Winnie Mercer has not decided where he will play ball this year, but says he will know within a week. In response to an inquiry he replied that his friends here might be surprised when they learned where he had signed for the season of 1901. It is almost a certainty that Mercer will join hands with the players, and may be a member of the American league this year.

Emerson's Last Lecture.

In his "Eccentricities of Genius" Major Pond tells the pathetic story of Ralph Waldo Emerson's last lecture, delivered in the Old South church in Boston for the fund to save that building from demolition:

"As he began reading his lecture the audience was very attentive. After a few moments he lost his place, and his granddaughter, sitting in the front row of seats, gently stepped toward him and reminded him that he was lecturing. He saw at once that he was wandering, and, with the most charming, characteristic, apologetic bow, he re-

DEATH-TRAPS IN HOMES.

There are many reasons for rejoicing at the approach of spring. One most excellent one is that it will diminish the number of horrible deaths by burning. Not a day passes that the newspapers do not chronicle from one to a dozen cases where persons, usually infants or aged women, have been burned to death by their clothing taking fire at an open-front stove or an unprotected grate. In fact, the record of the past winter has proved that the open fire-place has become a close rival of the railroad grade crossing in meting out death to the undeserving and the unwary. East Liverpool and vicinity have furnished an alarmingly large number of these shocking accidents, and every section of the country where natural gas or soft coal is used for fuel has helped to swell the terrible quota. It seems useless to urge caution and care; the warning always comes too late. Meantime death-traps, in which innocent infants and feeble women are liable to be caught and killed at any moment, continue to lurk in hundreds of households. Is there no remedy? Surely there must be one. An obvious precaution would be the use of a little common sense in the construction of fire-places. If this cannot be had except under compulsion, then let there be legislation. A small screen of gauze wire, stretched in front of every open fire, would prevent the loss of scores of lives yearly. Why should not health authorities and legislators give the matter their attention? It is true that a man's house is his castle, but even in his castle a man has no right to maintain an apparatus that constantly endangers the life of his wife and children. There are laws regulating sanitary appliances and plumbing used in houses, and there should be a law forbidding the unprotected grate, and it should be enforced to the letter.

A HOOSIER WOMAN'S IDEA.

Markleville, Ind., is a small village, but it has three saloons. It has no Carrie Nation, and being too insignificant to attract her notice, will have to worry along without. But Markleville has some determined women, who seem to have ideas that they did not send to Kansas for. Some of them tried saloon smashing, but the saloons wouldn't stay smashed. Then a leader arose and showed her sisters her way to pulverize the rum power. This is the way her idea worked in practice, according to a dispatch from Hoosierdom:

"She is a woman of large proportions, and, procuring a clapboard, she went to the saloon which her husband frequented. She found her husband, with a half dozen other men, seated about a card table, with a glass of beer in front of him. She grabbed her husband by the neck, and, seating herself in a chair, pulled him across her lap, applied the clapboard vigorously. The husband made a feeble effort to get up, but found the wife much the stronger. After tiring of the clapboard, the irate wife took her husband by the ear and led him to the other saloons and warned him to remain away from them, and then went home. Three other women led their husbands from the saloon by the ears."

The Markleville method seems to have several advantages over that of Mrs. Nation. Crusaders with clapboards will not incur the same danger of going to jail that they would if armed with hatchets. The risks are less in every way and the satisfaction to be got out of it, by all except the erring husbands, infinitely greater.

SCOUTED BY SCIENTISTS.

Nicola Tesla's talk of the inhabitants of Mars and the mysterious signals which he claims to have observed is ridiculed by the genuine scientists, of whom Tesla is not one. The question whether the planets are inhabited is as old as humanity. Nevertheless Mr. Tesla, smart young man that he is, has revived interest in that sort of speculation and incidentally attracted attention to himself, which, although it may not have been his primary object, is doubtless fully appreciated. Mr. Tesla has done some wonderful things, but he has also promised more than he has performed. When he gets in communication with Mars the world will want convincing evidence of the fact or it will still be incredulous. It is an interesting theme to talk about, but talk will never solve the problem. The notion that the Martians have been flashing signals to the inhabitants of the earth might have been credited in the age in which the tales of heathen mythology had their birth, but the sober scientists of this prosaic period cannot be expected to notice it further than to scout it.

Youngstown and New Castle from now on propose to go along like Romeo and Juliet along a lovers' lane, says the Youngstown Vindicator. Yes, precisely like them, with limitless conversation powers when they begin talking about each other.

Two hundred extra copies of the News Review were printed and sold last evening. This is the sort of appreciation which is gratifying to the publishers, and certainly very encouraging for the first day. Keep on coming, friends; you will find the paper to improve on further acquaintance.

An anti-hazing amendment has been tacked on the military academy bill. It is a good thing and should be pushed along. Uncle Sam cannot afford to maintain a school of ruffianism at West Point or elsewhere.

The whole country will rejoice when congress adjourns, if for no other reason than because it will compel Lentz, the common scold, to seek some other forum on which to make a nuisance of himself.

David B. Hill is not letting the office seek the man. He believes, with the late Benjamin Butler, that what is worth having is worth asking for.

Political skirmish lines have been established in this city to stand until March 16.

Pittsburg's mayor's name is Diehl, but it is likely soon to be Dennis.

The report of the township trustees for the month of February is as follows: Township expenses, $158.68; county expenses, $173.83. The expenses last month were unusually heavy, owing to the large amount of sickness in the city.

CHECKER TOURNAMENT.

An Interesting Series of Games by Local Players.

A checker tournament was begun last night, which will be participated in by six local crack players.

Those taking part are Al Obney, O. D. Nice, Prof. Armour, Charles Price, Frank Kratz and Clarence Smith. The latter failed to show up last evening. The first meeting was held at the home of Mr. Obney, Bradshaw avenue, and the break was pretty even among all but Kratz, who was to have a handicap. This consisted of an agreement that if he won or drew either or both of the first two games they counted a win. Two series of 25 games each will be played during the tournament, and it will be hotly contested all the way through. It will probably take two weeks to finish the series.

The winner will receive a handsome and valuable copy of Gould's "British Draught Player."

A BASE BALL CLUB SURE.

This City to Have a First-Class One This Season.

East Liverpool is to have a first-class base ball club this season picked from the best players in the city. The club will be under a good management, and every effort will be made to prevent the organization of rival clubs in the city.

IMPROVEMENT WANTED.

Residents of Lower Monroe Street Say It Should Be Paved.

The condition of lower Monroe street is the source of much complaint on the part of the residents in that vicinity.

It is thought that the thoroughfare should be improved, by paving, there being no reasonable excuse for not having the work done, as many valuable properties abut upon the street, and many residents say there would not be a single kick were the matter brought before the council. The condition of the street is abominable just at present, and resembles a country road much more than a city thoroughfare.

1,000,000 WOMEN RELIEVED

Reports received show that Wine of Cardui has brought permanent relief to 1,000,000 suffering women in the last few years. Because of Wine of Cardui, thousands of sufferers, seemingly on the way to premature graves, are now healthy women taking an active interest in the duties of life. Mrs. Mitchell was declining in health when Wine of Cardui "performed a miraculous cure" in her case. She suffered terribly with the agonies of falling of the womb, leucorrhoea and profuse menstruation. The weekly appearance of the menses for two months sapped her vitality until she was little better than a physical wreck. Her nervous system gave way under the terrible pain and aggravation. Then came the trial of Wine of Cardui and the cure. Mrs. Mitchell's experience ought to commend Wine of Cardui to suffering women in words of burning eloquence. The Wine is within the reach of all. Woman who try it are relieved. You can get as much benefit as Mrs. Mitchell received. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui. Send to the laboratory for the medicine if he tenders you a substitute.

WINE of CARDUI

South Gaston, N. C., May 29, 1899.
 Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught have performed a miraculous cure in my case. I have been a great sufferer from falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and my menses came every week for two months and became very painful. I was in a bad condition. My husband induced me to try Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught, and now I have no pain. The leucorrhoea has disappeared and now I am in perfect health. Mrs. WILLIE MITCHELL.

DEATH-TRAPS IN HOMES.

There are many reasons for rejoicing at the approach of spring. One most excellent one is that it will diminish the number of horrible deaths by burning. Not a day passes that the newspapers do not chronicle from one to a dozen cases where persons, usually infants or aged women, have been burned to death by their clothing taking fire at an open-front stove or an unprotected grate. In fact, the record of the past winter has proved that the open fire-place has become a close rival of the railroad grade crossing in meting out death to the undeserving and the unwary. East Liverpool and vicinity have furnished an alarmingly large number of these shocking accidents, and every section of the country where natural gas or soft coal is used for fuel has helped to swell the terrible quota. It seems useless to urge caution and care; the warning always comes too late. Meantime death-traps, in which innocent infants and feeble women are liable to be caught and killed at any moment, continue to lurk in hundreds of households. Is there no remedy? Surely there must be one. An obvious precaution would be the use of a little common sense in the construction of fire-places. If this cannot be had except under compulsion, then let there be legislation. A small screen of gauze wire, stretched in front of every open fire, would prevent the loss of scores of lives yearly. Why should not health authorities and legislators give the matter their attention? It is true that a man's house is his castle, but even in his castle a man has no right to maintain an apparatus that constantly endangers the life of his wife and children. There are laws regulating sanitary appliances and plumbing used in houses, and there should be a law forbidding the unprotected grate, and it should be enforced to the letter.

A HOOSIER WOMAN'S IDEA.

Markleville, Ind., is a small village, but it has three saloons. It has no Carrie Nation, and being too insignificant to attract her notice, will have to worry along without. But Markleville has some determined women, who seem to have ideas that they did not send to Kansas for. Some of them tried saloon smashing, but the saloons wouldn't stay smashed. Then a leader arose and showed her sisters her way to pulverize the rum power. This is the way her idea worked in practice, according to a dispatch from Hoosierdom:

"She is a woman of large proportions, and, procuring a clapboard, she went to the saloon which her husband frequented. She found her husband, with a half dozen other men, seated about a card table, with a glass of beer in front of him. She grabbed her husband by the neck, and, seating herself in a chair, pulled him across her lap, applied the clapboard vigorously. The husband made a feeble effort to get up, but found the wife much the stronger. After tiring of the clapboard, the irate wife took her

The Markleville method seems to have several advantages over that of Mrs. Nation. Crusaders with clapboards will not incur the same danger of going to jail that they would if armed with hatchets. The risks are less in every way and the satisfaction to be got out of it, by all except the erring husbands, infinitely greater.

SCOUTED BY SCIENTISTS.

Nicola Tesla's talk of the inhabitants of Mars and the mysterious signals which he claims to have observed is ridiculed by the genuine scientists, of whom Tesla is not one. The question whether the planets are inhabited is as old as humanity. Nevertheless Mr. Tesla, smart young man that he is, has revived interest in that sort of speculation and incidentally attracted attention to himself, which, although it may not have been his primary object, is doubtless fully appreciated. Mr. Tesla has done some wonderful things, but he has also promised more than he has performed. When he gets in communication with Mars the world will want convincing evidence of the fact or it will still be incredulous. It is an interesting theme to talk about, but talk will never solve the problem. The notion that the Martians have been flashing signals to the inhabitants of the earth might have been credited in the age in which the tales of heathen mythology had their birth, but the sober scientists of this prosaic period cannot be expected to notice it further than to scout it.

Youngstown and New Castle from now on propose to go along like Romeo and Juliet along a lovers' lane, says the Youngstown Vindicator. Yes, precisely like them, with limitless conversation powers when they begin talking about each other.

Two hundred extra copies of the News Review were printed and sold last evening. This is the sort of appreciation which is gratifying to the publishers, and certainly very encouraging for the first day. Keep on coming, friends; you will find the paper to improve on further acquaintance.

An anti-hazing amendment has been tacked on the military academy bill. It is a good thing and should be pushed along. Uncle Sam cannot afford to maintain a school of ruffianism at West Point or elsewhere.

The whole country will rejoice when congress adjourns, if for no other reason than because it will compel Lentz, the common scold, to seek some other forum on which to make a nuisance of himself.

David B. Hill is not letting the office seek the man. He believes, with the late Benjamin Butler, that what is worth having is worth asking for.

Political skirmish lines have been established in this city to stand until March 16.

Township Expenses for February.

The report of the township trustees for the month of February is as follows: Township expenses, $158.68; county expenses, $173.83. The expenses last month were unusually heavy, owing to the large amount of sickness in the city.

CHECKER TOURNAMENT.

An Interesting Series of Games by Local Players.

A checker tournament was begun last night, which will be participated in by six local crack players.

Those taking part are Al Obney, O. D. Nice, Prof. Armour, Charles Price, Frank Kratz and Clarence Smith. The latter failed to show up last evening. The first meeting was held at the home of Mr. Obney, Bradshaw avenue, and the break was pretty even among all but Kratz, who was to have a handicap. This consisted of an agreement that if he won or drew either or both of the first two games they counted a win. Two series of 25 games each will be played during the tournament, and it will be hotly contested all the way through. It will probably take two weeks to finish the series.

A BASE BALL CLUB SURE.

This City to Have a First-Class One This Season.

East Liverpool is to have a first-class base ball club this season picked from the best players in the city. The club will be under a good management, and every effort will be made to prevent the organization of rival clubs in the city.

IMPROVEMENT WANTED.

Residents of Lower Monroe Street Say it Should Be Paved.

The condition of lower Monroe street is the source of much complaint on the part of the residents in that vicinity.

It is thought that the thoroughfare should be improved by paving, there being no reasonable excuse for not having the work done, as many valuable properties abut upon the street, and many residents say there would not be a single kick were the matter brought before the council. The condition of the street is abominable just at present, and resembles a country road much more than a city thoroughfare.

PAUPER WHO HAD MONEY IN BANK

An Interesting and Peculiar Tale
Which Comes From Beaver
County, Pa.

COUNTY OFFICIALS RECEIVED

A Man Who Hailed from East Liverpool Got Into the Poor House And Then It Was Found He Had Property And Money at Interest.

Some time since a man about 58 years of age went to the poor farm and secured permission to stay there, says the Beaver Falls Review. In some manner the poor directors received the intelligence that the man had money,
and one of the officials went to East Liverpool, the former home
of the inmate, to make an investigation as to the latter's property.

On his return the directors decided to search the clothing of the inmate. They did so on Saturday, and found, tightly sewed
in a vest pocket, a certificate of deposit on a Beaver bank for $340. The man also had a few dollars in his clothes. The director who went to East Liverpool learned that the inmate had $600
worth of stock in a brick yard in that city, and was also told that he had money loaned on interest.

The certificate of deposit was given into the keeping of the poor board's attorney, and the directors say that when the inmate desires to leave the home he can do so, but that he will have to pay two dollars per week for his board at the home.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Arrangements for Services During the Pastor's Absence.

Rev. N. M. Crowe, pastor of the Sec-

his pulpit tomorrow for the last time
for several months. He will leave next week with his daughter Mabel for El Paso, Tex., where they expect to remain at least until the 1st of June. Through the kindness of his brethren in the ministry he has been enabled to make the following assignments for the supply of his pulpit
during his absence. Many of these whose names appear here voluntarily
tendered their services:

March 10, Rev. W. E. Hill; March
17, Rev. J. N. Swan, 11 a. m. and Rev.
P. W. Snyder 7:30; March 24, Rev. F.

McKee; May 5, Rev. E. F. McIlvain;
May 12, Rev. T. J. Gray; April 19, Rev.
W. E. Hill; April 26, Rev. J. N. Swan
at 11 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. union memorial services in the church, when
Rev. G. W. Orcutt will preach.

A series of special meetings will begin March 18 and continue for two weeks or longer if necessary. On Monday and Tuesday evenings, March 18
and 19, Rev. J. P. Leyenberger will preach; Wednesday, March 20, Rev. W.
E. Hill and Rev. J. N. Swan; March
21 and 22, Rev. Charles G. Jordan. Rev.
S. T. Boston will preach the week beginning Monday, March 25. The session of the church, assisted by Rev.
J. N. Swan and Rev. W. E. Hill, will look after the Wednesday evening prayer meeting.

A FAMILY AFFAIR.

Ball Bats And Butcher Knives Figure
In It But Nobody Is Injured.

A battle in which ball bats and butcher knives were already drawn was averted by a lack of nerve on the part of the instigator at the Neal house in the lower part of town last night.

It is reported that Miss Minnie Neal, who has been ill for some time, grew worse toward the latter part of the night and a doctor was summoned.

Clinton Davis, the girl's fiance, who had been taking care of her during her illness, had made sufficient noise
to disturb the slumbers of her stepfather, who procured a butcher knife
and started to clean out the house.
Davis grabbed a ball bat and the old man changed his mind. At this point
Mrs. Neal appeared on the scene and put both the men out.

Davis returned to East Liverpool
this morning, while the stepfather made for the squire's office and swore out a warrant for his arrest.

night. Miss Lucy Logan was the last

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS.

Mrs. Will Reed, of Seventh street, yesterday afternoon entertained at fancy work a number of her lady friends.

The National club held a very pleasant dance in their rooms in the First National bank building last evening.
Over 30 couples were present and spent the evening in tripping the light fantastic.

Golden Rod Hive No. 20, Lady Maccabees, held their last meeting at the home of Mrs. Walker, Calcutta road.
After the business had been transacted an oyster supper was served to the members of the hive, and the balance of the evening spent in social enjoyment.

FOR A NEW CATHOLIC DIOCESE.

One to Be Created in the Vicinity of Altoona.

Pittsburg, March 2.—Pope Leo XIII will, within the next two months, promulgate a bull for the division of the Catholic diocese of Pittsburg and Harrisburg, and the creation of a new episcopal see, the seat of which will be Altoona. This is the result of a council of the suffragan bishops of the province, held Tuesday afternoon
at the residence of Archbishop P. J.
Ryan, of Philadelphia.

The Congregation of Sacred Rites
has approved the petition for a division, and this petition, signed by the pope, was forwarded at once to Archbishop Ryan. The Rev. John
Boyle, vicar forane of the Pittsburg diocese, has been mentioned as first bishop of the new see.

The new diocese of Altoona will be made up of Cambria, Somerset, Bedford and Blair counties, which are to be detached from this diocese, and of Center, Clinton and Fulton counties,
detached from the diocese of Harrisburg. The formation of this see will make a split in the archdiocese of Philadelphia, as Schuylkill and Carbon, which are under Archbishop Ryan's charge, will be added to Harrisburg by way of compensation for the counties taken to form the new
see. The entire arrangement has been made for the purpose of relieving Bishop Phelan of a too onerous duty
of covering such an immense territory as is comprised in the present
area of Pittsburg diocese.

QUAY TALKS ON RIPPER.

Said People of Pittsburg Wanted It and Assembly Acted.

Philadelphia, March 2.—Senator
Quay and Governor Stone were in this city a short time, stopping off
en route from Harrisburg to Washington. The senator was questioned regarding his opinion of the passage of the reform charter for Pittsburg,
Allegheny and Scranton. He said:

"The people of Pittsburg wanted
the change and the assembly passed the bill. That was very proper and fitting. The Republican party was pledged by the state convention to enact certain reforms. It is now redeeming these pledges."

Governor Stone went to Atlantic City last evening. On Sunday he will go to Washington to participate in the inaugural ceremonies.

Joseph W. Taylor Dead.

Called His Papa Down.

Little Willy is a bright boy and a saucy boy. His apt answers have often turned away wrath and often turned it upon him strongly. The other day his father was reprimanding him for some misdeed, and Willy was answering very saucily.

The father became very angry and,
seizing the youngster by the collar,
said: "See here, young man, you must not talk like that to me. I never gave my father impudence when I was a boy."

Willy was not feazed at all. With a cherubic smile he looked into papa's eyes and said, "But, papa, maybe your father didn't need it." 'Twas all off.
Willy escaped punishment, while papa
retired to another room.—Albany Jourpool Got Into the Poor House And Then It Was Found He Had Property And Money at Interest.

Some time since a man about 58 years of age went to the poor
farm and secured permission to stay there, says the Beaver Falls
Review. In some manner the poor directors received the intelligence that the man had money,
and one of the officials went to East Liverpool, the former home
of the inmate, to make an investigation as to the latter's property.

On his return the directors decided to search the clothing of
the inmate. They did so on Saturday, and found, tightly sewed
in a vest pocket, a certificate of deposit on a Beaver bank for $340. The man also had a few dollars in his clothes. The director who went to East Liverpool
learned that the inmate had $600
worth of stock in a brick yard in that city, and was also told that he had money loaned on interest.

The certificate of deposit was
given into the keeping of the poor
board's attorney, and the directors say that when the inmate desires to leave the home he can
pay two dollars per week for his
board at the home.

Arrangements for Services During the Pastor's Absence.

Rev. N. M. Crowe, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, will occupy
his pulpit tomorrow for the last time
for several months. He will leave
next week with his daughter Mabel
for El Paso, Tex., where they expect
to remain at least until the 1st of June. Through the kindness of his brethren in the ministry he has been enabled to make the following assignments for the supply of his pulpit
during his absence. Many of these whose names appear here voluntarily

March 10, Rev. W. E. Hill; March
17, Rev. J. N. Swan, 11 a. m. and Rev.
P. W. Snyder 7:30; March 24, Rev. F.
P. Leyenberger and Rev. S. F. Boston;
March 31, Rev. W. E. Hill and Rev.
J. N. Swan, communion day; April 7,
Rev. R. A. McKinly, D. D.; April 14,
Rev. J. A. Platts; April 21, Rev. O. F.
Laughbaum; April 28, Rev. C. S. V.
McKee; May 5, Rev. E. F. McIlvain;
May 12, Rev. T. J. Gray; April 19, Rev.
W. E. Hill; April 26, Rev. J. N. Swan
at 11 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. union
memorial services in the church, when
Rev. G. W. Orcutt will preach.

A series of special meetings will begin March 18 and continue for two weeks or longer if necessary. On Monday and Tuesday evenings, March 18
and 19, Rev. J. P. Leyenberger will preach; Wednesday, March 20, Rev. W.
E. Hill and Rev. J. N. Swan; March
21 and 22, Rev. Charles G. Jordan. Rev.
S. T. Boston will preach the week beginning Monday, March 25. The session of the church, assisted by Rev.
J. N. Swan and Rev. W. E. Hill, will look after the Wednesday evening
prayer meeting.

Postoffice Business.

The sales at the postoffice during the month of February were as follows: Envelopes and wrappers,

$169.25; total, $2,662.78.

SOUTH SIDE.

A FAMILY AFFAIR.

Ball Bats And Butcher Knives Figure
In It But Nobody Is Injured.

A battle in which ball bats and butcher knives were already drawn
was averted by a lack of nerve on the part of the instigator at the Neal
house in the lower part of town last night.

It is reported that Miss Minnie Neal,
who has been ill for some time, grew worse toward the latter part of the night and a doctor was summoned.

Clinton Davis, the girl's fiancé, who had been taking care of her during
her illness, had made sufficient noise
to disturb the slumbers of her step-
father, who procured a butcher knife
and started to clean out the house.
Davis grabbed a ball bat and the old man changed his mind. At this point
Mrs. Neal appeared on the scene and
put both the men out.

Davis returned to East Liverpool
this morning, while the stepfather
made for the squire's office and swore
out a warrant for his arrest.

Southside Gossip.

Thomas Bambrick, who has been ill during the past week, is again able to be out.

Thomas Fickeson and Elmer Dornan, of New Cumberland, were in Chester on business today.

A very interesting spelling bee was held at the Allison school house last night. Miss Lucy Logan was the last person on the floor.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS.

Mrs. Will Reed, of Seventh street,
yesterday afternoon entertained at fancy work a number of her lady friends.

The National club held a very pleasant dance in their rooms in the First National bank building last evening.
Over 30 couples were present and spent the evening in tripping the light fantastic.

Golden Rod Hive No. 20, Lady Maccabees, held their last meeting at the home of Mrs. Walker, Calcutta road.
After the business had been transacted an oyster supper was served to the members of the hive, and the balance
ment.

PERSONALS.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Swindles left this morning for a two weeks' stay at Cambridge Springs for the benefit of Mrs. Swindles' health. They returned from that place about three weeks ago.

—Rev. Mr. Hinkle returned to his home in Steubenville today, after spending the night in the city, the guest of Rev. Edwin Weary. He occupied the pulpit at St. Stephen's Episcopal church last night.

The New Express Office.

The erection of the new office for the Adams Express company will be commenced in a few weeks. The office will be erected in the rear of the present one, facing the depot and will have a floor space of 800 feet.

Small Change.

"You know, I feel just like a counterfeit bill," observed a young man to a friend with whom he was walking, stopping in front of a barroom.

"Why?" queried his partner.

"I cannot pass," the other explained, waving his hand toward the entrance of the place.

"Oh," remarked his friend, "don't let that feeling worry you. You know, I'm somewhat accustomed to shoving the queer." And he took the man with a thirst by the arm and carried him on down the street.—Memphis

FOR A NEW CATHOLIC DIOCESE.

One to Be Created in the Vicinity of Altoona.

Pittsburg, March 2.—Pipe Leo XIII
will, within the next two months,
promulgate a bull for the division of the Catholic diocese of Pittsburg and Harrisburg, and the creation of a new episcopal see, the seat of which will be Altoona. This is the result of a council of the suffragan bishops of the province, held Tuesday afternoon
at the residence of Archbishop P. J.
Ryan, of Philadelphia.

The Congregation of Sacred Rites
has approved the petition for a division, and this petition, signed by the pope, was forwarded at once to Archbishop Ryan. The Rev. John
Boyle, vicar forane of the Pittsburg
diocese, has been mentioned as first
bishop of the new see.

The new diocese of Altoona will be made up of Cambria, Somerset, Bedford and Blair counties, which are to be detached from this diocese, and of Center, Clinton and Fulton counties,
detached from the diocese of Harrisburg. The formation of this see will make a split in the archdiocese of Philadelphia, as Schuylkill and Carbon, which are under Archbishop Ryan's charge, will be added to Harrisburg by way of compensation for
the counties taken to form the new
see. The entire arrangement has been made for the purpose of relieving Bishop Phelan of a too onerous duty
of covering such an immense territory as is comprised in the present
area of Pittsburg diocese.

QUAY TALKS ON RIPPER.

Said People of Pittsburg Wanted It and Assembly Acted.

Philadelphia, March 2.—Senator
Quay and Governor Stone were in this city a short time, stopping off
en route from Harrisburg to Washington. The senator was questioned
regarding his opinion of the passage
of the reform charter for Pittsburg.
Allegheny and Scranton. He said:
"The people of Pittsburg wanted
the change and the assembly passed
the bill. That was very proper and fitting. The Republican party was pledged by the state convention to enact certain reforms. It is now redeeming these pledges."

Governor Stone went to Atlantic City last evening. On Sunday he will go to Washington to participate in the inaugural ceremonies.

Denver, March 2.—Joseph W. Tay-

Called His Papa Down.

Little Willy is a bright boy and a saucy boy. His apt answers have often turned away wrath and often turned it upon him strongly. The other day his father was reprimanding him for some misdeed, and Willy was answering very
saucily.

The father became very angry and,
seizing the youngster by the collar,
said: "See here, young man, you must not talk like that to me. I never gave my father impudence when I was a boy."

Willy was not feazed at all. With a cherubic smile he looked into papa's
eyes and said, "But, papa, maybe your
father didn't need it." 'Twas all off.
Willy escaped punishment, while papa
retired to another room.—Albany Journal.

In Trouble.

Mrs. Turtledove—Do you know, dear, I'm afraid Harry does not love me the way he used to.

Mrs. Kissimee—You do not mean to say he is cross to you?

Mrs. Turtledove—No, but he says that he is hankering for a square meal; that he'll starve to death if he does not get away from a chafing dish diet before long. And he used to be so enthusiastic over the things I cooked in the chafing dish when he came to see me!

Black Teeth.

The custom of women in Japan at marriage giving their teeth an everlasting coating of blacking is practiced now by only a small percentage, but there are still seen in the cities hundreds of women hideous with black ivory, and dentists' showcases contain sets of black teeth.

THE WEATHER.

Ohio—Generally fair, except probably occasional rains along the Ohio

COMPROMISE OF THE DISPUTE

Grand Army Men to Form the Escort
of the President—Porto Rican Battalion Arrives—Features of the Great Parade Next Monday.

Washington, March 2.—The dispute between the inaugural committee and the war veterans over the matter of precedence in the parade Monday resulted in a compromise, under which the veterans will take part to a certain extent in the ceremonies. At a conference between Secretary Root, General Francis V. Greene, grand marshal of the parade, and General Daniel E. Sickles, it was decided that the local and visiting Grand Army veterans will form the honorary escort to the president from the white house to the capitol on the 4th of March. The further conclusion was reached that the veterans will not participate in the afternoon parade on the return from the capitol to the white house, but after the procession has passed through the court of honor they will be reviewed by the president.

General Heywood, commandant of marines, has issued an order directing one regiment of marines, consisting of three battalions of four companies each, and the Marine band, with the required number of officers, to assemble in Washington for the purpose of participating in the inaugural parade. Colonel P. C. Pope will have command of the marine detachment.

The college men invited to participate in the inaugural parade have been assigned to form the first brigade of the third division of the civic section of the pageant. General O. O. Howard will command the division. The college men in the parade will march in the following order, their positions being fixed by the date of the charter of the institution they respectively represent:

St. John's military academy, Annapolis, Md.
Princeton university.
Charleston college, Charleston, S. C.
Georgetown university, District of Columbia.
University of West Virginia.
Columbian university, Washington, D. C.
Mercer university, Macon, Ga.
Virginia military institute.
Gallaudet college, Washington, D. C.
University of Kansas.
Maryland Agricultural college.
University of California.
Iowa State college.
Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Md.
Grove City college, Grove City, Pa.
Carlisle Indian Industrial school.
West Virginia Conference seminary.
National university, Washington, D. C.

Morningside college, Sioux City, Ia.
United States College of Veterinary Surgeons, Washington, D. C.

The training ship Dixie, which has aboard a naval detachment to participate in the parade, was in the lower Potomac yesterday, and will, it was expected, reach Alexandria today. The Hartford, Admiral Farragut's famous old flagship, was able to make her way up the river to a point opposite the Washington arsenal. The Lancaster was expected to reach Alexandria Sunday night. The Topeka had not passed in the Capes yesterday, or at least had not reported. It was doubted whether she would reach Washington in time to participate in the inaugural ceremonies. Without her the navy will have a thousand men in line, but if she arrives in season this will be swelled to 1,300 or 1,400.

The Rawlins, with the Porto Rican battalion that is to participate in the inaugural ceremonies, arrived at Fortress Monroe yesterday afternoon.

Killed One Burglar; Captured Another.
Wheeling, March 2.—At Claysville, Pa., about 70 miles east of here, Town Constable John Neely shot and killed

one burglar and captured another after a desperate fight. The burglars had entered half a dozen houses and were finally located in a store. They fought desperately and Neely was badly hurt. The coroner's jury exonerated the officer.

SOME EVENTS IN BRIEF.

Scranton, Pa.—Another big anthracite coal deal has been consummated by the purchase by the Delaware and Hudson company of the Laffin, Langcliffe, Greenwood and Brooks Coal companies.

Philadelphia.—The shirt manufacturing establishment of Tuttleman Bros. & Egan, at Adams avenue and Church street, this city, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $70,000; fully covered by insurance.

Malone, N. Y.—Twenty-five China men were captured on the Canadian line north of Malone and are in jail here. The same number were said to be coming today. They probably will be taken to Ogdensburg.

Baltimore.—The extensive establishment of Hirschberg, Hollander & Co., dealers in paints and oils, at 23 and 25 Hanover street, burned, entailing a loss of $100,000. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Philadelphia.—Judge McPherson, in the United States district court, sentenced D. S. Ogden, who was found guilty on Tuesday last of violating the oleomargarine law, to two months imprisonment and to pay a fine of $200.

Highland Falls, N. Y.—Arthur Engelskircher, aged 13 years, shot and killed his cousin, Joseph Engelskircher, the same age, in the jewelry store of his father here. Arthur was handling his father's shotgun, and, playfully pointing it at Joseph, pulled the trigger.

Lincoln—Nebraska state penitentiary, three miles from this city, was almost destroyed by fire. The loss will be about $800,000. There was no disorder among the convicts, who were guarded by militiamen hastily summoned from Lincoln. One convict perished.

New York.—The price of roasted coffee has been advanced one-half a cent a pound to 10½ cents net by the Woolson Spice company, which is controlled by the American Sugar Refining interests. This brings the price up to a level with that of the Arabica. The sugar and coffee war has been settled.

Washington.—The success of the movement to have congress declare that the gates of the St. Louis exposition should be closed on Sundays was due in a great measure to the energetic work of Rev. Dr. J. W. Hathaway, general secretary of the American Sabbath union, of New York, assisted by Senator Teller and Representative Grout.

Topeka, Kan.—Mrs. Carrie Nation returned to Topeka from Peoria, Ill., where she went to edit a newspaper for a day. Upon her arrival here she went at once to the county jail, where she gave herself over to the custody of the sheriff. The $2,000 bond which Mrs. Nation was required to give before she left the city was cancelled. Her trial, it was expected, comes up at the April term of the district court.

St. Petersburg—Larpovitch, who shot and wounded the minister of public instruction, M. Bogoliefpoff, last Wednesday, while the minister was holding a reception, and who was subsequently arrested, was expelled from the Moscow university in 1896 for taking part in the students' riots there. He was also expelled from the Dorpat university for the same reasons in 1898, and studied at the Berlin university in 1900.

Mrs. Rachel Gilson.

A telegram message was received in this city yesterday announcing the death of Mrs. Richard Gilson at her home at Inverness. She was 40 years of age and death was caused by a complication of diseases. Mrs. Gilson was a cousin of J. B. Williams, of College street, who left this morning to attend the funeral, which occurred this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment was made at Inverness.

RUSSIAN PAINTER IN THE FIELD

The Great Verestschagin in the Philippines Searching for Material for New Pictures—He Is Favorably Impressed With the American Soldiers

Manila, March 2.—Twenty-one rebel officers and 120 bolomen have surrendered to Lieutenant Desque, of the Forty-seventh United States volunteer infantry, at the town of Irocin, in Albay province, Southern Luzon.

The federalists are securing many new members for their party in Laguna province, east of Manila.

Vassaili Verestschagin, the Russian painter of battle scenes, has reached the Philippine islands searching for new war pictures. He has called upon General MacArthur. Verestschagin is favorably impressed with the American soldiers and has made many sketches of the battle fields near Manila.

Excitement over gold mining in the province of Le Panto, in Northern Luzon, is increasing. A number of pockets have been discovered, but no well-defined ledges have been found.

Balanga, Province of Bataan, Luzon, March 2.—When the launch bearing the members of the United States Philippine commission appeared off the shore of the mountainous peninsular province of Bataan, it was met by more than a hundred oarsmen, stripped to their waists. On the boats were painted the names of the towns they hailed from, and in them were the head men of the villages.

Each flotilla passed the commission's launch in review, the oarsmen shouting "vivas." The whole procession then scurried toward the shore, headed by a sail banco towing a canopied barge, in which were the members of the commission and their party.

The barge grounded amid a crush of small boats, and the younger natives sprang into the water and dragged it to a point where were wagons hub-deep.

These carried the visitors to dry land to Puerto Rivas, and thence to Balanga, passing through lines of natives and streets of flag-decorated houses to the military headquarters.

The public session of the commission passed off as previous public sessions had elsewhere.

DEATHS REPORTED.

A List of Names Sent by General MacArthur, From the Philippines, to the War Department.

Washington, March 2.—General MacArthur sent a casualty report from the Philippines as follows:

Manila March 1, 1901.

The following deaths have occurred since last report:

All other causes—Feb. 19, Co. F, 43d I., Clarence L. Anderson; Feb. 7, Co. I, 16th I., Sergeant Locke Castlebury, drowned, body recovered; Feb. 17, Battery A, 6th artillery, Sergeant Jesse C. Coplinger; Jan. 20, Co. B, 43d I., William H. Hartman; Feb. 19, Co. K, 17th I., John Kellick; Feb. 20, Acting Assistant Surgeon James L. Rebbett; Co. L, 16th I., George S. Smedley; Co. I, 21st I., Joseph M. Spencer; Feb. 19, Co. C, battalion of engineers, Harry W. Starbird.

A Difficult Wife.

An Englishman thus describes the wife of his bosom in his will:

"Heaven seems to have sent her into the world solely to drive me out of it. The strength of Samson, the genius of Homer, the prudence of Augustine, the skill of Pyrrhus, the patience of Job, the philosophy of Socrates, the subtlety of Hannibal, the vigilance of Hermogenes, would not suffice to subdue the perversity of her character."—Exchange.

COMPROMISE OF THE DISPUTE

of the President—Porto Rican Battalion Arrives—Features of the Great Parade Next Monday.

Washington, March 2.—The dispute between the inaugural committee and the war veterans over the matter of precedence in the parade Monday resulted in a compromise, under which the veterans will take part to a certain extent in the ceremonies. At a conference between Secretary Root, General Francis V. Greene, grand marshal of the parade, and General Daniel E. Sickles, it was decided that the local and visiting Grand Army veterans will form the honorary escort to the president from the white house to the capitol on the 4th of March. The further conclusion was reached that the veterans will not participate in the afternoon parade on the return from the capitol to the white house, but after the procession has passed through the court of honor they will be reviewed by the president.

General Heywood, commandant of marines, has issued an order directing one regiment of marines, consisting of three battalions of four companies each, and the Marine band, with the required number of officers, to assemble in Washington for the purpose of participating in the inaugural parade. Colonel P. C. Pope will have command of the marine detachment.

The college men invited to participate in the inaugural parade have been assigned to form the first brigade of the third division of the civic section of the pageant. General O. O. Howard will command the division. The college men in the parade will march in the following order, their positions being fixed by the date of the charter of the institution they respectively represent:

St. John's military academy, Annapolis, Md.
Princeton university.
Charleston college, Charleston, S. C.
Georgetown university, District of Columbia.
University of West Virginia.
Columbian university, Washington, D. C.
Mercer university, Macon, Ga.
Virginia military institute.
Gallaudet college, Washington, D. C.
University of Kansas.
Maryland Agricultural college.
University of California.
Iowa State college.
Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Md.
Grove City college, Grove City, Pa.
Carlisle Indian Industrial school.
West Virginia Conference seminary.
National university, Washington, D. C.
Morningside college, Sioux City, Ia.
United States College of Veterinary Surgeons, Washington, D. C.

The training ship Dixie, which has aboard a naval detachment to participate in the parade, was in the lower Potomac yesterday, and will, it was expected, reach Alexandria today. The Hartford, Admiral Farragut's famous old flagship, was able to make her way up the river to a point opposite the Washington arsenal. The Lancaster was expected to reach Alexandria Sunday night. The Topeka had not passed in the Capes yesterday, or at least had not reported. It was doubted whether she would reach Washington in time to participate in the inaugural ceremonies. Without her the navy will have a thousand men in line, but if she arrives in season this will be swelled to 1,300 or 1,400.

The Rawlins, with the Porto Rican battalion that is to participate in the inaugural ceremonies, arrived at Fortress Monroe yesterday afternoon.

Killed One Burglar; Captured Another.
Wheeling, March 2.—At Claysville, Pa., about 70 miles east of here, Town Constable John Neely shot and killed

one burglar and captured another after a desperate fight. The burglars had entered half a dozen houses and were finally located in a store. They fought desperately and Neely was badly hurt. The coroner's jury exonerated the officer.

SOME EVENTS IN BRIEF.

Scranton, Pa.—Another big anthracite coal deal has been consummated by the purchase by the Delaware and Hudson company of the Lafin, Langcliffe, Greenwood and Brooks Coal companies.

Philadelphia—The shirt manufacturing establishment of Tuttleman Bros. & Eagan, at Adams avenue and Church street, this city, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $70,000; fully covered by insurance.

Malone, N. Y.—Twenty-five Chinese men were captured on the Canadian line north of Malone and are in jail here. The same number were said to be coming today. They probably will be taken to Ogdensburg.

Baltimore—The extensive establishment of Hirschberg, Hollander & Co., dealers in paints and oils, at 23 and 25 Hanover street, burned, entailing a loss of $100,000. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Philadelphia—Judge McPherson, in the United States district court, sentenced D. S. Ogden, who was found guilty on Tuesday last of violating the oleomargarine law, to two months imprisonment and to pay a fine of $200.

Highland Falls, N. Y.—Arthur Engelskircher, aged 13 years, shot and killed his cousin, Joseph Engelskircher, the same age, in the jewelry store of his father here. Arthur was handling his father's shotgun, and, playfully pointing it at Joseph, pulled the trigger.

Lincoln—Nebraska state penitentiary, three miles from this city, was almost destroyed by fire. The loss will be about $800,000. There was no disorder among the convicts, who were guarded by militiamen hastily summoned from Lincoln. One convict perished.

New York—The price of roasted coffee has been advanced one-half a cent a pound to 10½ cents net by the Woolson Spice company, which is controlled by the American Sugar Refining interests. This brings the price up to a level with that of the Arabica. The sugar and coffee war has been settled.

Washington—The success of the movement to have congress declare that the gates of the St. Louis exposition should be closed on Sundays was due in a great measure to the energetic work of Rev. Dr. J. W. Hathaway, general secretary of the American Sabbath union, of New York, assisted by Senator Teller and Representative Grout.

Topeka, Kan.—Mrs. Carrie Nation returned to Topeka from Peoria, Ill., where she went to edit a newspaper for a day. Upon her arrival here she went at once to the county jail, where she gave herself over to the custody of the sheriff. The $2,000 bond which Mrs. Nation was required to give before she left the city was cancelled. Her trial, it was expected, comes up at the April term of the district court.

St. Petersburg—Larpovitch, who shot and wounded the minister of public instruction, M. Bogoloff, last Wednesday, while the minister was holding a reception, and who was subsequently arrested, was expelled from the Moscow university in 1896 for taking part in the students' riots there. He was also expelled from the Dorpat university for the same reasons in 1898, and studied at the Berlin university in 1900.

Mrs. Rachel Gilson.

A telegram message was received in this city yesterday announcing the death of Mrs. Richard Gilson at her home at Inverness. She was 40 years of age and death was caused by a complication of diseases. Mrs. Gilson was a cousin of J. B. Williams, of College street, who left this morning to attend the funeral, which occurred this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment was made at Inverness.

RUSSIAN PAINTER IN THE FIELD

The Great Verestchagin in the Philippines Searching for Material for New Pictures—He Is Favorably Impressed With the American Soldiers

Manila, March 2.—Twenty-one rebel officers and 120 bolomen have surrendered to Lieutenant Desque, of the Forty-seventh United States volunteer infantry, at the town of Irocin, in Albay province, Southern Luzon.

The federalists are securing many new members for their party in Laguna province, east of Manila. Vassalli Verestchagin, the Russian painter of battle scenes, has reached the Philippine islands searching for new war pictures. He has called upon General MacArthur. Verestchagin is favorably impressed with the American soldiers and has made many sketches of the battle fields near Manila.

Excitement over gold mining in the province of Le Panto, in Northern Luzon, is increasing. A number of pockets have been discovered, but no well-defined ledges have been found.

Balanga, Province of Bataan, Luzon, March 2.—When the launch bearing the members of the United States Philippine commission appeared off the shore of the mountainous peninsular province of Bataan, it was met by more than a hundred oarsmen, stripped to their waists. On the boats were painted the names of the towns they hailed from, and in them were the head men of the villages.

Each flotilla passed the commission's launch in review, the oarsmen shouting "vivas." The whole procession then scurried toward the shore, headed by a sail banco towing a canopied barge, in which were the members of the commission and their party.

The barge grounded amid a crush of small boats, and the younger natives sprang into the water and dragged it to a point where were wagons hub-deep.

These carried the visitors to dry land to Puerto Rivas, and thence to Balanga, passing through lines of natives and streets of flag-decorated houses to the military headquarters.

The public session of the commission passed off as previous public sessions had elsewhere.

A List of Names Sent by General MacArthur, From the Philippines, to the War Department.

Washington, March 2.—General MacArthur sent a casualty report from the Philippines as follows:
Manila March 1, 1901.

The following deaths have occurred since last report:

All other causes—Feb. 19, Co. F, 43d I., Clarence L. Anderson; Feb. 7, Co. I, 16th I., Sergeant Locke Castlebury, drowned, body recovered; Feb. 17, Battery A, 6th artillery, Sergeant Jesse C. Coplinger; Jan. 20, Co. B, 43d I., William H. Hartman; Feb. 19, Co. K, 17th I., John Kellick; Feb. 20, Acting Assistant Surgeon James L. Rebbett; Co. L, 16th I., George S. Smedley; Co. I, 21st I., Joseph M. Spencer; Feb. 19, Co. C, battalion of engineers, Harry W. Starbird.

A Difficult Wife.

An Englishman thus describes the wife of his bosom in his will:
"Heaven seems to have sent her into the world solely to drive me out of it. The strength of Samson, the genius of Homer, the prudence of Augustine, the skill of Pyrrhus, the patience of Job, the philosophy of Socrates, the subtlety of Hannibal, the vigilance of Hermonogenes, would not suffice to subdue the perversity of her character."—Exchange.

KNOX FOR CABINET

The Pittsburg Lawyer Likely to Be Attorney General Griggs' Successor.

NO OTHER CHANCE LIKELY

All President McKinley's Advisers Resign, But Are Expected to Be Renominated—General Regret Over Failure of Treaties.

Washington, March 2.—At the cabinet meeting, the last under this presidential term, all of the members presented to the president their resignations, to take effect upon the qualification of their successors. Attorney General Griggs, who is the only member who has decided not to remain during the coming four years, was among the number and his renomination will go to the senate with the others on Tuesday. He will not serve longer, however, than about April 1, when, it is now believed, Mr. Philander C. Knox, of Pittsburg, will receive the appointment.

The cabinet talked over the Cuban situation, and Secretary Root read telegrams from General Wood to the effect that in his opinion the Cubans would soon become convinced that the action of congress in fixing the relations which should exist between Cuba and the United States was for their interest as well as our own, and would accept them without serious objections.

The cabinet discussed the action of the senate with respect to the treaties now pending in that body, and general regret was expressed at their impending failure.

NO EXTRA SESSION.

House Concurred In Senate Amendments to the Army Appropriation Measure.

Washington, March 2.—The house removed possibility of an extra session by concurring in the senate amendments to the army appropriation bill. The vote stood 159 to 134. It was a strict party vote, with the exception of Mr. McCall, of Massachusetts; Mr. Loud, of California; Mr. Driscoll, of New York, and Mr. Mann, of Illinois, who voted with the Democrats. Mr. Cooper, of Wisconsin, answered present and was not paired. The bill now goes to the president. The house was brought to a vote by a special order prepared by the committee on rules, which permitted an hour's debate on a side. The Democrats attempted to filibuster, but they were overwhelmed. The debate was not especially noteworthy. The Philippine and Cuban amendments were defended by the Republicans and assailed by the Democrats. The only exciting incident occurred at the close of the debate, when Mr. Hull, of Iowa, whose name had been connected with a lumber and development company in the Philippines, frankly acknowledged that he had invested money in it. He said it was a legitimate enterprise, which was not looking for government favors. Subsequently, when he stated that the company would not have invested money if Bryan had been elected, the Democrats jeered and hissed, and shouted that it was because if Bryan had been elected the Philippines would not have been exploited. Mr. Lentz, of Ohio, challenged Mr. Hull's right to vote, but Mr. Hull voted aye. The final conference report upon the Indian appropriation bill was adopted and a number of minor bills were put through the final stages.

The conference report on the St. Louis exposition bill, which agreed to Sunday closing, was agreed to and the bill was sent back to conference. A motion to concur in the Charleston exposition amendment was defeated, 84 to 132. The revenue cutter service bill was sidetracked early in the day by a vote of the house.

They Changed. A Vienna paper relates an anecdote of the painter Makart, who was sometimes as taciturn as Von Moltke. One evening at a dinner he sat for an hour next to the soubrette Josephine Bellmeyer without volunteering a word. Finally she lost patience and exclaimed, "Well dear master, suppose we change the subject."

THE BIG STEEL COMBINE.

Dun's Review Said It Had Not Directly Effected Business—Some Features of Trade Review.

New York, March 2.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says in part:

Jobbing trade in groceries, hardware and iron specialties has further gained in volume in the east since our last report, and retail business has been good except for a slow movement of some descriptions of dry goods, notably clothing, of which dealers fear they must carry over unusually large stocks. In the west and southwest, however, the season has been satisfactory. The greatest industrial combination ever arranged, that providing for the union of the leading steel interests, has not directly effected business as yet, and may not do so, otherwise than by removing some of the unnecessary competition from the industry.

Nominal quotations of iron and steel are misleading. According to published lists it appears that, while pig iron has steadily advanced for many weeks, little change has occurred in finished products. This discrepancy is due to the figures fixed by the various pools and associations, but at which it is impossible to secure prompt deliveries. Actual business is done at extensive advances over these prices, billets selling at $21 at Pittsburg, or more than a dollar above the nominal rate, while plates, bars and structural shapes are only available when special terms are offered. Even on distant deliveries mills are asking higher figures, and every line of steel production at Pittsburg has already covered full contracts for the next two months, while there is a general feeling that material advances will occur before May 1. Bessemer pig iron sold this week at $15.25 and grey forge at $19, prices that have not been equaled since early in August. Coke production is enormous, and Connellsville prices at last show a definite advance. Further increase appears in sales of wool at the three chief eastern markets, 8,830,500 pounds changing hands for the week, against 8,528,500 in the previous week.

Domestic crop conditions are encouraging and the best explanation of strength is found in Atlantic exports during February of wheat, flour included, amounting to 10,348,204 bushels, against 7,671,552 last year, and 14,730,262 bushels of corn, against 12,724,645 in 1900.

Commercial failures in February were 1,024 in number and $11,287,211 in amount, compared with 1,242 in January, with liabilities of $11,220,811.

PRESSURE WAS RELAXED.

Steel Stocks Scored Unequal Recoveries, on Friday.

New York, March 2.—Pressure was relaxed against the steel stocks in Friday's market and they scored unequal recoveries. Probably this had as much to do with the better tone of the stock market as anything that could be cited. National Tube was the most effected, with a rally of 3½, and Steel and Wire is about 2 points higher. Other members of the group gained between 1 and 2 points. There was a marked decline in speculative interest in this department of the stock market, incident to the completion of the process of adjustment of prices to the conditions disclosed early in the week of the steel merger. Until this condition in the steel stocks had been fairly disclosed there was more or less heaviness in the general market. The realizing in St. Paul on the stock privileges carried it down a point, but it was well supported at that level, and later scored a full recovery. After the turn in the market had set in there were large buying movements developed in a number of individual stocks or allied groups of stocks. This was most notable among the Gould southwesterns, including Missouri Pacific, the St. Louis Southwesterns, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas stocks and the Wabashes. The extreme advance here ran from 1 to 2½, the latter in Missouri Pacific, and 2½ in St. Louis Southwestern preferred.

The continued ease of the money market detracted from any apprehension over today's bank statement, which is expected to show a decline in cash reserve owing to the absorption of over $3,000,000 by the sub-treasury this week. Money still moves toward New York from the interior, although New York exchange at Chicago has declined steadily to 30 cents discount. The London money market relaxed Friday with the release of funds tied up by month end requirements, and sterling exchange here eased off in response.

The bond market was moderately active and irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,315,000.

United States refunding 2s coupon advanced ¼ per cent on the last call.

REDUCE FORCE IN CHINA.

Such Orders Sent to Chaffee—Those to Be Removed to Be Taken to the Philippines.

Washington, March 2.—Carrying out the policy inaugurated by the state department when it changed its military force in China into a legation guard, the war department sent orders to General Chaffee to still further reduce his force. The general has under his command about 1,800 men, composed of Troops 1, K, L and M, Sixth United States cavalry; Battery F, Fifth artillery, and the Ninth infantry. Although nominally a legation guard, General Chaffee's force is of rather formidable offensive quantity, and not desirous of retaining an unnecessary menace to the Chinese court, and in order to hold out inducements for its early return to Pekin, the United States government some time ago determined upon a further reduction of the American force, and the orders went forward. Considerable discretion was left to General Chaffee in the selection of the troops to remain, and it is assumed at the department that the Pekin dispatches announcing that these consist of two companies of the Ninth infantry under Major Robertson is correct. If the other powers represented at Pekin can be induced to follow this policy, it is hoped that a long step will have been effected toward the restoration of normal conditions in Pekin.

It is said at the war department that the arrangements have not yet been made for bringing away the troops from Pekin, and it is believed that this cannot be done before the ice clears out of the Pei river, which is usually some time in the latter part of March. The troops are to go to Manila, thereby making good the losses which General MacArthur's command will sustain through the withdrawal of the volunteers who are coming home to be mustered out. It is the understanding at the war department that General Chaffee, who will leave Pekin with these troops, is to relieve General MacArthur of the supreme command in the Philippines.

STRONG HOLD ON LIFE.

Street Car, Clubs, Ax And Gun Used to Kill a Dog.

A street car, an ax, a gun and two clubs were necessary yesterday afternoon to put to death a cur whose hold on life made the traditional nine lives of the cat seem feeble in comparison.

The street car ran over the dog just above the power house, breaking both its legs. A power house employee dealt the dog three blows on the head with an ax and threw it over the river bank. In a few minutes its howls made life miserable for the nearby residents, and Mr. King administered a dose of buck shot.

About half an hour later the dog again set up a piteous wail, and two killmen who were passing came to its relief with clubs and beat its head clear off. Nothing has been heard from it since, but the motormen half expect its ghost to appear at the power house tomorrow.

A Young Girl!

May be very old in suffering. She is very apt to neglect the earlier symptoms of disease. Often when she takes treatment it is the wrong treatment for her case. Very many young women write to Dr. Pierce and consult him by letter free. All such correspondence is strictly private, and womanly modesty is spared the shock of delicate examination, unpleasant questionings and offensive local treatments.

"I suffered with female trouble," writes Miss Agnes McGowne, of 1221 Bank St., Washington, D. C. "I tried various remedies but none seemed to do any permanent good. The doctors said it was the worst case of internal trouble they ever had. I decided to write to Doctor Pierce for help. I received a very encouraging reply and commenced treatment at once. I had not used the 'Favorite Prescription' a week before I began to feel better, and, as I continued, my health gradually improved. It is improving every day and I still continue to take the medicine."

KNOX FOR CABINET

The Pittsburg Lawyer Likely to Be Attorney General Griggs' Successor.

All President McKinley's Advisers Resign, But Are Expected to Be Renominated—General Regret Over Failure of Treaties.

Washington, March 2.—At the cabinet meeting, the last under this presidential term, all of the members presented to the president their resignations, to take effect upon the qualification of their successors. Attorney General Griggs, who is the only member who has decided not to remain during the coming four years, was among the number and his renomination will go to the senate with the others on Tuesday. He will not serve longer, however, than about April 1, when, it is now believed, Mr. Philander C. Knox, of Pittsburg, will receive the appointment.

The cabinet talked over the Cuban situation, and Secretary Root read telegrams from General Wood to the effect that in his opinion the Cubans would soon become convinced that the action of congress in fixing the relations which should exist between Cuba and the United States was for their interest as well as our own, and would accept them without serious objections.

The cabinet discussed the action of the senate with respect to the treaties now pending in that body, and general regret was expressed at their impending failure.

NO EXTRA SESSION.

Washington, March 2.—The house removed possibility of an extra session by concurring in the senate amendments to the army appropriation bill. The vote stood 159 to 134. It was a strict party vote, with the exception of Mr. McCall, of Massachusetts; Mr. Loud, of California; Mr. Driscoll, of New York, and Mr. Mann, of Illinois, who voted with the Democrats. Mr. Cooper, of Wisconsin, answered present and was not paired. The bill now goes to the president. The house was brought to a vote by a special order prepared by the committee on rules, which permitted an hour's debate on a side. The Democrats attempted to filibuster, but they were overwhelmed. The debate was not especially noteworthy. The Philippine and Cuban amendments were defended by the Republicans and assailed by the Democrats. The only exciting incident occurred at the close of the debate, when Mr. Hull, of Iowa, whose name had been connected with a lumber and development company in the Philippines, frankly acknowledged that he had invested money in it. He said it was a legitimate enterprise, which was not looking for government favors. Subsequently, when he stated that the company would not have invested money if Bryan had been elected, the Democrats jeered and hissed, and shouted that it was because if Bryan had been elected the Philippines would not have been exploited. Mr. Lentz, of Ohio, challenged Mr. Hull's right to vote, but Mr. Hull voted aye. The final conference report upon the Indian appropriation bill was adopted and a number of minor bills were put through the final stages.

The conference report on the St. Louis exposition bill, which agreed to Sunday closing, was agreed to and the bill was sent back to conference. A motion to concur in the Charleston exposition amendment was defeated, 84 to 132. The revenue cutter service bill was sidetracked early in the day by a vote of the house.

They Changed. A Vienna paper relates an anecdote of the painter Makart, who was sometimes as taciturn as Von Moltke. One evening at a dinner he sat for an hour next to the sourette Josephine Ballmeyer without volunteering a word. Finally she lost patience and exclaimed, "Well dear master, suppose we change the subject."

THE BIG STEEL COMBINE.

Dun's Review Said It Had Not Directly Effected Business—Some Features of Trade Review.

New York, March 2.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says in part:

Jobbing trade in groceries, hardware and iron specialties has further gained in volume in the east since our last report, and retail business has been good except for a slow movement of some descriptions of dry goods, notably clothing, of which dealers fear they must carry over unusually large stocks. In the west and southwest, however, the season has been satisfactory. The greatest industrial combination ever arranged, that providing for the union of the leading steel interests, has not directly effected business as yet, and may not do so, otherwise than by removing some of the unnecessary competition from the industry.

Nominal quotations of iron and steel are misleading. According to published lists it appears that, while pig iron has steadily advanced for many weeks, little change has occurred in finished products. This discrepancy is due to the figures fixed by the various pools and associations, but at which it is impossible to secure prompt deliveries. Actual business is done at extensive advances over these prices, billets selling at $21 at Pittsburg, or more than a dollar above the nominal rate, while plates, bars and structural shapes are only available when special terms are offered. Even on distant deliveries mills are asking higher figures, and every line of steel production at Pittsburg has already covered full contracts for the next two months, while there is a general feeling that material advances will occur before May 1. Bessemer pig iron sold this week at $15.25 and grey forge at $19, prices that have not been equaled since early in August. Coke production is enormous, and Connellsville prices at last show a definite advance. Further increase appears in sales of wool at the three chief eastern markets, 8,830,500 pounds changing hands for the week, against 8,528,500 in the previous week.

Domestic crop conditions are encouraging and the best explanation of strength is found in Atlantic exports during February of wheat, flour included, amounting to 10,348,204 bushels, against 7,671,552 last year, and 14,730,262 bushels of corn, against 12,724,645 in 1900.

Commercial failures in February were 1,024 in number and $11,287,211 in amount, compared with 1,242 in January, with liabilities of $11,220,811.

PRESSURE WAS RELAXED.

Steel Stocks Scored Unequal Recoveries, on Friday.

New York, March 2.—Pressure was relaxed against the steel stocks in Friday's market and they scored unequal recoveries. Probably this had as much to do with the better tone of the stock market as anything that could be cited. National Tube was the most effected, with a rally of 3 1/2, and Steel and Wire is about 2 points higher. Other members of the group gained between 1 and 2 points. There was a marked decline in speculative interest in this department of the stock market, incident to the completion of the process of adjustment of prices to the conditions disclosed early in the week of the steel merger. Until this condition in the steel stocks had been fairly disclosed there was more or less heaviness in the general market. The realizing in St. Paul on the stock privileges carried it down a point, but it was well supported at that level, and later scored a full recovery. After the turn in the market had set in there were large buying movements developed in a number of individual stocks or allied groups of stocks. This was most notable among the Gould southwest erns, including Missouri Pacific, the St. Louis Southwesterns, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas stocks and the Wabashes. The extreme advance here ran from 1 to 2 3/4, the latter in Missouri Pacific, and 2 1/2 in St. Louis Southwestern preferred.

The continued ease of the money market detracted from any apprehension over today's bank statement, which is expected to show a decline in cash reserve owing to the absorption of over $3,000,000 by the sub-treasury this week. Money still moves toward New York from the interior, although New York exchange at Chicago has declined steadily to 30 cents discount. GRANITE WARE.

THIS WILL HEREAFTER BE PRO-DUCED AT CHESTER.

The Taylor, Lee & Smith Pottery Will Carry Out Its Original Plans.

"Quite a change will be made at the Taylor, Lee & Smith pottery at Chester, within the next week or so. It has been decided that in the future not only will porcelain be made at this plant, but granite ware will also be made. The plant closed for one week Friday evening in order that some changes might be made about the plant before the making of granite ware was commenced."

The foregoing is taken from the Commoner and Glassworker, of Pittsburg, and is not taken seriously by the potters generally in this city. The statement made by the correspondent is one of a number of stories which have been current in the city for some time. A majority of these were wide of the mark.

Will L. Taylor was approached in regard to the matter today and made the following statement:

"There have been no charges made in the original plans of the company, and the plant is not working at present because of some repairs. It has always been the intention of the firm to make both porcelain and white granite."

THIS CITY IN FAVOR.

IT CAN HAVE THE 1902 TURNFEST
IF IT WANTS IT.

Members of the Organization Now
Discussing And Investigating
the Matter.

It now an absolute certainty that if the local turner society wants the turnfest for 1902 it can bring it to East Liverpool, and from the expression of a number of prominent members this city will get it.

The affair is of far greater importance than some may suppose, as it invariably brings many thousands of people, and the event lasts four days.

There are over 400 turners in this district, and this number may be greatly increased before the time for holding the turnfest.

The organization here is just now engaged in making arrangements for the accommodation and entertainment, believing that it is the best plan by far to start early and go over the ground completely in order to be thoroughly acquainted with the requirements before definitely deciding as to whether or not they want the meeting.

The greatest difficulty experienced, so far is the absence of a field, properly located, which will be sufficiently large to accommodate the contestants in the athletic sports. This has given the local committee no end of trouble, and it is possible that the turners will be compelled to give up the idea on this account.

The Flight of Time.

A masked man confronted me with a pistol in a lonely spot on the dark road. "Cough up your chronometer," he demanded gruffly.

I fumbled for my 18 carat timepiece, thinking that my last hour was at hand. When I dared to look up, he had vanished with his plunder.

Even then, such is the incongruity of the human mind, though rejoiced that my time had not yet come, I regretted in my heart that it had gone. —New York Sun.

Proofs of Ignorance.

"Why don't you bookstore clerks know more about books?"

"Madam, we don't dare be intellectual, for customers would ask us so many questions that we couldn't make any sales." —Chicago Record.

Bad For the Business.

"Yes, I had to let him go," replied the boss barber to the regular customer when the latter asked an explanation of the absence of his pet barber.

"Why?"

"Well, he insisted on raising whiskers."

"Raising whiskers? Great Scott! Isn't this a free country, where a man may raise whiskers if he so chooses?"

"Yes, this is a free country, and a man can do pretty much as he likes, but there's one thing he can't do and work for me, and that's it."

"Why do you object?"

"For three reasons. The first is that he was a rather cross looking fellow anyway. Whiskers would make him look crosser. In the second place, to raise whiskers it would be necessary for him to look like a Weary Willie for two or three weeks. In the third place—and this is reason enough, even if there were no other—if he should succeed in raising a good looking beard, he would set an example that might be followed by some customers. The result would be that instead of getting shaved three or four times a week, or even every day, they would content themselves with getting their whiskers trimmed once a fortnight or once a week. Such a move would seriously affect the cash box and for that reason is not to be tolerated."

"How many barbers have you seen wearing beards? Every barber realizes the force of my objection. Oh, yes, every man has constitutional rights that all should observe. So have I." —St. Louis Star.

Thomas Jefferson as a Letter Writer.

Mr. Jefferson probably wrote more letters with his own hand than any other public man that ever lived. The extent of his correspondence may be inferred from the fact that 26,000 letters neatly folded and briefed were preserved by him and found carefully filed away at the time of his death, with copies of the replies sent to more than 16,000. These, however, were only a small portion of his correspondence, as he retained only those he considered of future usefulness or importance.

Stenography was not invented at that time. Every one of his letters was written with his own hand and with great care, although after breaking his wrist while minister to France it became a great labor to him. His penmanship was small, plain and legible, every letter being perfectly formed, and his account books are kept in so small a hand that many of the pages cannot be read without a magnifying glass.

Jefferson was ambidextrous. He could write equally well with either hand. When his wrist was broken, he learned to write with his left hand, which became as skillful as the other. Divided the Remedy.

The Philadelphia Record tells a story of a physician of that city who was called to see an old Irishman and his wife, down with colds. He advised quinine and whisky as an antidote. "You must both take it," he said. "Take it every three hours—two grains of quinine and a swallow of whisky." The next day he called again. The man was up and about, but his wife was in bed. "Did you follow my instructions?" asked the doctor.

"To the letter," replied the husband.

"How much quinine have you left?" was the next question.

"Sure, Oi t'ink she have taken th' whole av it," said the man.

"And didn't you take it, too?" asked the doctor.

"Divil th' bit," was the reply. "Begorra, it kept me busy takin th' whisky every time she took a pill, an sure she's in bed an Oi'm up."

MORGAN'S RAIDERS.

THE FAMOUS ROUGH RIDING CAM-PAIGN OF THE CIVIL WAR.

It Carried Panic and Confusion Into Ohio and Indiana, but Resulted in No Benefit Whatever to the Confederate Cause.

"Cavalry riding" and the major, "is exciting, but very exhausting business. Long distance raids in an enemy's country can be made only where there are a good many horses. John Morgan could never have made his raid through Indiana and Ohio in 1863 if the counties raided had not been well supplied with the best horses in the west. When he started from the Cumberland river, in east Tennessee, Morgan believed that he would sweep everything before him and that, if properly supported, he would capture Cincinnati.

"Morgan, with a well organized brigade of cavalry 4,000 strong, swept northward from the Cumberland river through Kentucky to the Ohio river at Brandenburg, 40 miles below Louisville. There he captured two steamboats, crossed the river, swept through southern Indiana, galloped around Cincinnati, not more than ten miles from the city, and then moved eastward, expecting to cross the Ohio river at Buffington, but was driven back, made another attempt at Wellsburg, but was finally captured at New Lisbon.

"This was the most remarkable raid of the war. It carried panic and confusion into Ohio and Indiana, but in results it was of no benefit whatever to the Confederate cause. Morgan believed that there would be an uprising in the Confederate interest in Kentucky. There was not. He believed that the peace Democrats in Ohio would give him at least secret support, but when his men stole the horses of the peace Democrats the latter joined the ranks of Morgan's pursuers, and before the raid was half over the whole state was aroused, and men who had taken no interest in the war previous to that time shouldered their squirrel rifles to fight the raiders who were stealing their horses and carrying the horrors of war to their very doors.

"There was hard riding all the time for Morgan's men. They left behind them a wreckage of broken down horses. They kept ahead of their Union pursuers simply because they stole horses right and left and remounted the men, but they were finally captured, and that fall Ohio gave the war party the largest majority in the history of the state up to that time. In fact, the Morgan raid, by carrying the war into the peaceful districts of Indiana and Ohio, provoked a furious feeling of resentment, which influenced people for 20 years.

"The comedy of the raid was furnished by the people of the districts wholly unused to war, wholly unprepared for it and with exaggerated ideas of the ferocity of Morgan's men. For two weeks it was only necessary for some mischievous boy to shout, 'Morgan is coming!' in any village in central or southern Ohio to create a panic. I know that many of the raiders after Morgan got no rest night or day, slept in the saddle, and not a few of them fell off their horses in sleep. At the end of the raid they were as exhausted as Morgan's men, but with a more difficult task to perform they never received half the praise given to the raiders.

"I remember," continued the major, "one case in which a woman stabled her carriage horses in the parlor for two days to keep them out of Morgan's hands. I saw Morgan's men ride by that house and saw some of them stop to listen at the unusual sound of horses' feet on a carpeted floor, but the parlor horses were not disturbed. Some of our neighbors drove their horses, cattle and sheep 30 miles into the interior and were away from home a week. Morgan's men looted right and left, and some of them had bolts of calico strapped to their saddles when they were captured.

"Morgan, it must be remembered, made his whole raid with artillery and a wagon train, but he was not in Ohio to fight, and he demonstrated at once the ease with which a peaceful district may be invaded by a mobile column and at the same time the peril involved in such a venture. In a few days 30,000 militiamen were in the field against him. At first he played with these green soldiers, but at last they hung on his flanks, eager for fight as bulldogs. In the last days Hobson's men, who had followed Morgan for hundreds of miles through three states, closed in on their old enemies with a gleefulness that exceeded anything of the kind I ever saw in the army, and Judah's men, closing in on the other side, settled the fate of the raiders.

"Morgan's men knew by the maneuvering and the firing when they were faced by trained soldiers, and the first charge of the Union cavalry had it the impetus of delayed vengeance. The Unionists who rode in that charge had old scores to settle, and Morgan's tired veterans were overwhelmed. After Morgan had escaped from the penitentiary at Columbus and had reorganized his command and was again raiding Kentucky hundreds of Union soldiers on their way home for discharge left their trains and joined in the pursuit simply to get a crack at the old raider, and Morgan knew when their rifles spoke that he was up against the real thing."

What Frightened Him.

While crossing the isthmus of Panama by rail some years ago the conductor obligingly stopped the train for Mr. Campion to gather some beautiful crimson flowers by the roadside. It was midday and intensely hot. In his "On the Frontier" Mr. Campion tells a peculiar story of this flower picking experience.

I refused offers of assistance and went alone to pluck the flowers. After gathering a handful I noticed a large bed of plants knee high and of delicate form and a beautiful green shade. I walked to them, broke off a fine spray and placed it with the flowers.

To my amazement I saw that I had gathered a withered, shriveled, brownish weed. I threw it away, carefully selected a large, bright green plant and plucked it. Again I had in my hand a bunch of withered leaves.

It flashed through my mind that a sudden attack of Panama fever, which was very prevalent and much talked of, had struck me delirious.

I went "off my head" from fright. In a panic I threw the flowers down and was about to run to the train. I looked around. Nothing seemed strange. I felt my pulse. All right. I was in a perspiration, but the heat would have made a lizard perspire.

Then I noticed that the plants where I stood seemed shrunken and wilted. Carefully I put my finger on a fresh branch. Instantly the leaves shrank and began to change color. I had been frightened by sensitive plants.

No Keys to White House.

In these modern days the front door of the White House is not locked at night. Practically no doors are locked, and if the steward should look around for keys he would probably not find half of those formerly in use. Big policemen are about the only doors at the executive mansion. They guard the main doors at all hours of day and night, and there is no need to close and lock the inner doors. Before President Lincoln's time policemen were rare at the president's home, and when all the clerks and servants had gone home at night the housekeeper went around and carefully locked all the doors inside and outside except to rooms occupied by those going in and coming out. —Washington Star.

GRANITE WARE.

THIS WILL HEREAFTER BE PRODUCED AT CHESTER.

The Taylor, Lee & Smith Pottery Will Carry Out Its Original
Plans.

"Quite a change will be made at the Taylor, Lee & Smith pottery at Chester, within the next week or so. It has been decided that in the future not only will porcelain be made at this plant, but granite ware will also be made. The plant closed for one week Friday evening in order that some changes might be made about the plant before the making of granite ware was commenced."

The foregoing is taken from the Commoner and Glassworker, of Pittsburg, and is not taken seriously by the potters generally in this city. The statement made by the correspondent is one of a number of stories which have been current in the city for some time. A majority of these were wide of the mark.

Will L. Taylor was approached in regard to the matter today and made the following statement:

"There have been no charges made in the original plans of the company, and the plant is not working at present because of some repairs. It has always been the intention of the firm to make both porcelain and white granite."

THIS CITY IN FAVOR.

IT CAN HAVE THE 1902 TURNFEST
IF IT WANTS IT.

Members of the Organization Now
Discussing And Investigating
the Matter.

It now an absolute certainty that if the local turner society wants the turnfest for 1902 it can bring it to East Liverpool, and from the expression of a number of prominent members this city will get it.

The affair is of far greater importance than some may suppose, as it invariably brings many thousands of people, and the event lasts four days.

There are over 400 turners in this district, and this number may be greatly increased before the time for holding the turnfest.

The organization here is just now engaged in making arrangements for the accommodation and entertainment, believing that it is the best plan by far to start early and go over the ground completely in order to be thoroughly acquainted with the requirements before definitely deciding as to whether or not they want the meeting.

The greatest difficulty experienced, so far is the absence of a field, properly located, which will be sufficiently large to accommodate the contestants in the athletic sports. This has given the local committee no end of trouble, and it is possible that the turners will be compelled to give up the idea on this account.

The Flight of Time.

A masked man confronted me with a pistol in a lonely spot on the dark road. "Cough up your chronometer," he demanded gruffly.

I fumbled for my 18 carat timepiece, thinking that my last hour was at hand. When I dared to look up, he had vanished with his plunder.

Even then, such is the incongruity of the human mind, though rejoiced that my time had not yet come, I regretted in my heart that it had gone. —New York Sun.

Bad For the Business.

"Yes, I had to let him go," replied the boss barber to the regular customer when the latter asked an explanation of the absence of his pet barber.

"Why?"

"Well, he insisted on raising whiskers."

"Raising whiskers? Great Scott! Isn't this a free country, where a man may raise whiskers if he so chooses?"

"Yes, this is a free country, and a man can do pretty much as he likes, but there's one thing he can't do and work for me, and that's it."

"Why do you object?"

"For three reasons. The first is that he was a rather cross looking fellow anyway. Whiskers would make him look crosser. In the second place, to raise whiskers it would be necessary for him to look like a Weary Willie for two or three weeks. In the third place—and this is reason enough, even if there were no other—if he should succeed in raising a good looking beard, he would set an example that might be followed by some customers. The result would be that instead of getting shaved three or four times a week, or even every day, they would content themselves with getting their whiskers trimmed once a fortnight or once a week. Such a move would seriously affect the cash box and for that reason is not to be tolerated."

"How many barbers have you seen wearing beards? Every barber realizes the force of my objection. Oh, yes, every man has constitutional rights that all should observe. So have I." —St. Louis Star.

Thomas Jefferson as a Letter Writer.

Mr. Jefferson probably wrote more letters with his own hand than any other public man that ever lived. The extent of his correspondence may be inferred from the fact that 26,000 letters neatly folded and briefed were preserved by him and found carefully filed away at the time of his death, with copies of the replies sent to more than 16,000. These, however, were only a small portion of his correspondence, as he retained only those he considered of future usefulness or importance.

Stenography was not invented at that time. Every one of his letters was written with his own hand and with great care, although after breaking his wrist while minister to France it became a great labor to him. His penmanship was small, plain and legible, every letter being perfectly formed, and his account books are kept in so small a hand that many of the pages cannot be read without a magnifying glass.

Jefferson was ambidextrous. He could write equally well with either hand. When his wrist was broken, he learned to write with his left hand, which became as skillful as the other. It would have been impossible for him to have carried on his extensive correspondence without being able to relieve his right hand at intervals. —Chicago Record.

16TH YEAR. NO. 223.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1901.

United Efforts of Three Well-Armed Officers.

ONE READ HIM THE WARRANTS

They Were So Many That He Grew
Weary And Took French Leave.
Returned to His Slumbers And Made Good His Escape.

The unsuccessful attempt to arrest Andy Stafford at Congo yesterday did not discourage those brave officers from New Cumberland and Toronto, so they came back last night, fully confident of success.

Constable West, of New Cumberland, had about a dozen warrants and several revolvers and other dangerous weapons, and Constable Paisley, of Toronto, was similarly equipped and also had requisition papers from the governor of Ohio.

Andy was wanted on so many charges that these two stalwart officers thought he might hurt somebody. They, therefore, deputized Mr. Newlan, the largest and strongest resident of Congo, and after bountifully supplying him with the accoutrements of a constable, made straight for the house which, it is alleged, Andy and his gang made their headquarters.

They placed Newlan outside the rear door with two revolvers and bravely mounted the front steps and entered the house. Some one had told them that they ought to look around inside the house, so they obtained the proprietor's consent and began a search.

In the rooms upstairs there is a closet that opens into either room. Paisley opened the door on one side and Andy Stafford, the much wanted man, stepped out at the other side right in the arms of Officer West. West did not put his hands on him, but flashed a bunch of warrants at Stafford and told him they wanted him. This, no doubt, was news to Andy.

Andy seated himself on the bed and said the jig was up and West seated himself beside the offender and began to read warrants. Officer Paisley had come into the room and also seven of the boys of the family who started to play "pig in the parlor" with Paisley as the porker.

Andy got tired hearing so many warrants and shot down the stairs while Officer West gazed after him in astonishment. Special Officer Newlan had either gone to sleep at the back door or was not watching. Stafford passed out into the back yard and climbed a little apple tree.

The trio of brave officers returned to the ferry boat and Andy returned to bed. Some one told the officers and they came back again, but by this time Andy had left for Jethro and they searched in vain. They slept in the ferry boat all night, going out each hour in search of the missing man, but they did not get him and returned to their homes this morning.

The residents of Congo were indignant yesterday; they merely laugh today.

JETHRO EXCITED.

Crowd And the Supposed Victim
Came to See.

It is seldom that the quiet suburb of Jethro is wrought up as it was yesterday afternoon when it was reported that a small boy had broken through the ice and had drowned in the river about 100 yards below the old glass house.

In 10 minutes the river bank was black with people, no less than 200 residents of that locality being present to witness the work of rescue.

It seems that Earl Smith, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Smith, of Jethro, had taken advantage of the river being closed and had spent most of his spare time upon the ice since last Sunday.

He told several companions yesterday that he proposed going to the other side and started off alone. He had been told that it would be dangerous to attempt to make the trip, as it had been thawing all day and the ice was very rotten. Not long afterward his companions went to the beach and not finding the youngster at once gave the alarm.

About the time the people had all assembled young Earl came gliding down the Ohio shore from the vicinity of the flint mill and was taken in hand by his father, who was among the spectators, and as he was very careful to preserve the skate straps, it is quite likely there was an accounting at the Smith home in Jethro.

TIME ALMOST UP.

Street Railway Has a Few Days More
in Which to Comply With Terms
of Franchise.

There is some speculation as to what council will do when the 30 days have expired which the street railway company was given to comply with the terms of its franchise in regard to painting poles, planking crossings and putting on more cars. The letter which Solicitor Gaston received from Manager Healy stated that the company would comply with the demands of council just as soon as possible, and more cars have been put on, but the rest of the work has never been done.

The 30 days are almost up, and Solicitor Gaston says at the end of that time he will report to council and take such action as that body may decide upon.

The company will occupy the entire building. Work on the underground system to be put in this city will also start in the spring.

N. B. OF O. P. TO DECLARE STRIKE

STORY OF A CORRESPONDENT

A Number of the Prominent Members
of the National Executive Board
Were Seen Today And Refused to
Be Quoted in Any Manner.

An East Liverpool correspondent of the Commoner and Glassworker, signing himself Gallaher, has the following somewhat startling statement in this week's issue:

"While things seem to be going along smoothly between the national officers and the manufacturers, still it has become known that the national officers are very much dissatisfied of late over the actions of the manufacturers. The refusal of the manufacturers to appoint a committee to deal with the Brotherhood regarding the questions adopted at the last convention has palsied the hands of the national officers, unless they wish to order a strike. The fact that the different locals are demanding the enforcement of these questions has made it very unpleasant and disagreeable for the national officers, who are endeavoring to reach a peaceful settlement of the questions at issue and thereby avert trouble. But the constant clamoring of the operatives for the enforcement of these measures, and the disagreeable tactics of the manufacturers, have proven too much for the officers, and some of them, who heretofore have been very conservative, now very earnestly favor resorting to the most strenuous measures.

"I have it from good authority that unless things take a different turn within the next month an ultimatum will be presented to the manufacturers, which, in addition to the questions heretofore submitted to them, will contain a demand for a general increase of wages.

"The reason for asking a general increase, and which is a logical one, is that the manufacturers have recently increased their selling price, and the operatives feel that they should share in this increase, for if in the future the manufacturers should be compelled to reduce the selling price they will then, in all probability, call upon the operatives to share in the reduction.

"It is to be hoped that a strike will be averted, but if the manufacturers continue in their present methods a strike must be the inevitable conclusion. They have refused the Brotherhood's request for a conference, which leaves nothing for the officials to do but demand, and having made a demand they must consistently enforce their demands."

Pres. Hughes, Secretary Duffy and several other members of the national organization were seen, but refused to be quoted.

KILNMEN'S CENSUS.

Enumerator's Report Shows 383 Employed in the City.

Kilnmen's union No. 9 met in regular session last evening in Brotherhood hall.

The attendance was very large, and a number of matters of more than ordinary importance were disposed of.

Among these was the hearing of the report of George Smith, who had been appointed at a previous meeting to take the census of the kilnmen of the city. Mr. Smith's report was an interesting one, and will be a valuable addition to their already large batch of statistics.

The report shows there are just 380 kilnmen engaged at the trade in East Liverpool, 90 of this number being apprentices.

It also shows that the kilnmen's local union has more members than any other connected with the Brotherhood, and that practically all the workmen employed at kilnwork are members of the union.

POTTERY PROJECT DISCUSSED.

$65,000 Plant.

Salem, March 2.—The board of trade meeting to discuss a new pottery project was largely attended. Rollin B. Heaton presented the matter, saying it was the intention to build a three-kiln pottery, 320 feet in length, large enough for five kilns, if necessary. It was calculated that the investment would approximate $65,000. The pottery men are anxious to get at work at once. They require five acres and a bonus.

The meeting was a success and after arranging some preliminary details and appointing a committee to have matters in more definite form by Saturday evening, adjournment was made to that evening.

ABOUT THE POTTERIES.

The clay shops of the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery were idle yesterday, there being a shortage of clay.

A number of employees of the National plant, who have been idle during the past week, resumed work today.

The National China company resumed operations this morning after a week's shut down. The shut down was caused by a broken pump.

Ed Cook returned yesterday from Tiffin, where he erected three new decorating kilns for the Great Western Pottery company.

Engraver George Walker, of Trenton, N. J., has received an offer from the East Palestine Pottery company, but owing to local business prospects he did not accept.

William Radcliffe, of East Trenton, has accepted a position with the East Palestine pottery, in the dipping department.

Local Laundryman Will Attend.

The annual convention of the National Laundrymen's association will be held in Columbus March 11 and 12. Inquiry among local laundrymen developed the fact that but one representative will be present from East Liverpool. James R. Hill, of the Woodbine Steam Laundry, is a member of the organization, and expects to be present. Mr. Hill will leave here on Sunday night, March 10, and remain throughout the sessions, returning on Wednesday.

Battleax Complained.

Bessie Fortner, generally known as "Battle Ax," has complained for several days to the authorities in regard to the annoyance occasioned by the frequent visits of "Crip" Cain to her home in Dewdrop alley. Last night Chief Thompson, Chief Morley with his bloodhound; Fireman Wood with an army musket and Fireman McMillan, went to the house and made a search for the offender. The quest of the officers was not successful.

A Writ Was Issued.

Justice H. P. McCarron this morning issued a writ of restitution in the case of Albert Taylor versus George Culbertson for forcible detention.

MRS. GELTCH WANTS DIVORCE

SETTLING A SUICIDE'S ESTATE

the County Court—Matters Before
the Probate Judge And Other Cases Now Receiving Attention.

Lisbon, March 2.—(Special.)—Margaret Geltch, of Salem, has entered suit in court against Andrew Geltch, asking for a divorce and reasonable alimony. The parties were married in October, 1895, in Canton, and have one son.

Mrs. Geltch says she was abandoned by defendant last December. As an heir of Andrew Geltch the defendant owns an interest in lot 987 in Frazier's addition to Salem, valued at $400, part of which she asks for the support of herself and child.

The will of the late John McMillan, of Salem township, has been admitted to probate, and upon application Katherine McMillan and H. D. Patterson were appointed executors, with $700 bond. George Frederick, John H. Guthrie and Frank Betts were appointed to appraise the property.

Andrew Geltch, who committed suicide in Salem a week ago, left no will and the court today appointed J. B. Baker as administrator of the estate with a $2,400 bond. A. E. Hanna, R. C. Cridler and Charles McMillan will make the appraisement.

The Pennsylvania company this morning paid $1,200 for the death of John J. Hainley, who was killed at Wellsville in August, 1899. The settlement was effected in probate court after Judge Boone had appointed John and Margaret Hainley administrators of the estate with $2,400 bond.

No will was found in the estate of Edgar F. Phillpot, late of Washington township, and Leah Phillpot was appointed administrator with $150 bond.

The case of Lewis Bros. against James A. Swaney was appealed here this morning from Squire McLane's court at East Liverpool. The plaintiff sued on a book account and got judgment in the amount. The defendant appealed.

A marriage license has been issued to Charles W. Heim and Miss Irene Glass, of New Chambersburg.

SUED FOR SELLING OLEO.

E. A. Geon, of This City, a Defendant
at Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 2.—(Special.)—Yesterday afternoon in the court of Justice Riddle was commenced an action against Ed A. Geon, of East Liverpool, on a charge preferred by the state dairy and food department for selling oleomargarine contrary to law.

The Capitol City Dairy company, of Columbus, from whom the oleomargarine is alleged to have been bought by Geon, is defending the case, and under an agreement with Geon, will pay all expenses of the trial or any fine which may be assessed.

Quiet at Police Headquarters.

Business at police court took a sudden slump last night and there was not an arrest. Frank Sheppard, who occupied a cell yesterday, managed to secure the necessary $5.60 to secure his release.

EAST END.

BUGGY OVERTURNED.

Boy Occupants Had a Narrow Escape.
Horse Ran Away And Vehicle Was Wrecked.

Albert Kreider and Louis Holman narrowly escaped serious injury by being thrown under an overturned buggy attached to a runaway horse near Ralston's crossing yesterday afternoon.

The horse took fright at a passing freight and reared and plunged wildly, overturning the buggy and throwing both gentlemen underneath the bed. Fortunately the shafts gave way just as the horse started forward and the boys were left underneath the buggy, while the frightened animal dashed up the road. The horse was caught by a teamster coming down the road and the boys escaped with some bad bruises and a good shaking up. The buggy was badly damaged.

ALEX CHAFFIN EXPLAINS.

How He Missed a Place on the Ticket.
Another Chance.

Alex Chaffin was busy all day yesterday explaining just how it happened and outlining his political policy for the future.

In answer to an inquiry as to why he didn't send his name to the central committee he said:

Alex states further that he has already spent $20 and that he doesn't propose to lose it, as he is going to have a petition signed by the residents of Chaffinville, asking the county central committee that he be permitted to run on the ticket as an independent candidate. J. J. Weisen suggested that Alex need not be alarmed, as he will now be nominated on the Democratic ticket, where he formerly belonged.

NO WORD FROM COWAN.

Relatives Still Wait for Tidings of the Missing Man.

Regarding a rumor that William Cowan, the missing salesman, had been heard from, report from Beaver Falls states that Mrs. Cowan has had no word from him. She heard last week that he had been seen in Wheeling, but investigated the rumor, and found it baseless.

Relatives of the missing man in this city state that he has not been heard from since his sudden disappearance, and that they have no idea where he is.

East End Notes.

Mrs. George Clendenning is very ill with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Thomas Strain is visiting her parents in Salineville.

Miss May Lisby will spend Sunday with her mother at Toronto, O.

Charles Pinkerton has just returned from a week's visit to Sebring.

Miss Nellie Duncan will entertain the National club at her home Monday evening.

Mrs. Washington Hoskins, of Zanesville, O., is visiting relatives in the East End.

May Be in the League.

Winnie Mercer has not decided where he will play ball this year, but says he will know within a week. In response to an inquiry he replied that his friends here might be surprised when they learned where he had signed for the season of 1901. It is almost a certainty that Mercer will join hands with the players, and may be a member of the American league this year.

CONFINED TO BED.

John Neal Suffering From a Dog's Bite—The Father Had the Animal Shot.

John W. Neal, who was bitten on the leg by a Scotch terrier dog on Washington street last Monday, is now confined to his bed as a result. The injured member has swollen greatly and pains him severely.

While little apprehension is felt, it is barely possible that the canine may have been mad.

Complaint was made at police headquarters, and the dog, which belonged to Bentley Pope, was shot by Officer Davis yesterday afternoon. It was not a vicious animal, but had acted rather queerly during the past few days.

Mayor Davidson advised that the dog be locked up and watched for a while, but the injured boy's father seemed anxious to have it killed at once.

BOOM AT THE COUNTY SEAT

Bright Prospects, Present and Future, for Lisbon.

Lisbon certainly has the call this summer for big improvements and big increase in population. The demand for houses is so great that at least 100 families are turned away without houses. Of course, says the Patriot, this will not last long. By December 150 new dwellings will be constructed and all may be accommodated. The tin mill employs about 800 people, the sewer pipe works 300, the coal mines near Lisbon 400, the clay works and fire brick works, soon to be started, about 450. In all nearly 1,800 people are employed at remunerative wages. That makes Lisbon a good place to do business.

PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED.

Otho Club Met at the Home of Mrs. Ralston, Second Street.

The Otho club was very pleasantly entertained last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Ralston, Second street.

About 35 guests were present and the evening was delightfully spent in various games. A dainty luncheon was served at a late hour.

Old Bill Pritts on the Stage.

Uniontown, Pa., March 2.—A novel show was given here Wednesday night. It was an idea of the prisoners in the county jail, and they made a success of it. All the minstrel and other talent was drawn from the prison. A temporary platform was built in the main corridor for a stage, and the first performer was old Bill Pritts, who was introduced by the manager as "the famous moonshiner of Saltlick township." Pritts bowed and smiled, and then stage fright struck him and he had to buck down without being able to say a word.

BEYOND DOUBT

These Facts Must Convince Every East Liverpool Reader.

That which follows is the experience of a resident of East Liverpool. Incredulity cannot exist about the statement; because it can readily be investigated.

Mr. Henry Bevington, who resides at the corner of Avondale and Bradshaw avenue, says: "During three years I had attacks of dull, steady aching in the back. When stooping or sitting for some time it would change to a quick pang as I arose to an upright position. My back tired out easily when walking or standing long, and I often had headaches, dizziness, and in the morning great depression. I took medicines, many of them, but found Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at the W. & W. pharmacy, to be more suitable for my complaint than anything that I had ever tried."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

SOMERS, OF THE LEAGUE, ON THE BASE BALL SITUATION.

Apparently Protective Association Members Are Free to Sign With Either League.

Cleveland, March 2.—The Leader today was expected to print the following in relation to the baseball situation:

"Vice President Somers, of the American league, received a telegram from Charles Zimmer, who is in Washington, telling Mr. Somers to 'sign players; the agreement amounts to nothing.' Somers replied to the telegram that he would make the information public, so that the players could know where they stand.

"Rumors have been current the past few days that desertions from the National to the American leagues would occur before long. Zimmer's telegram seems to give liberty to do so.

"The players can now sign with whichever league they please, and will sign to the best advantage.

"Mr. Somers stated that the American league would give the National league one of the hardest fights it ever had, and would eventually attain supremacy in the baseball world.

"James Collins, the third baseman of the Boston National league club, will be in this city Saturday, and it will then be learned whether he has signed with the National or the American league for the coming season. The Boston management of the National league club is said to have offered Collins a very large salary to retain his services. If Collins goes with the American league it will probably be as manager of their Boston club."

Chicago, March 2.—The Record today was expected to say: "Third Baseman Bradley and Pitcher Garvin have signed with the Cleveland American league team."

LARGE SUM INVOLVED.

Rockefeller Defendant in a Case Filed in the Ohio Supreme Court, at Columbus.

Columbus, March 2.—A suit in which John D. Rockefeller is defendant and the sum involved is $275,763 was filed in the supreme court by Judge Stevenson Burke, attorney for James Corrigan, formerly a wealthy vessel owner of Cleveland, who, in 1895, being in financial embarrassment, pledged 2,500 shares of Standard Oil stock to Rockefeller to secure a loan of the above sum. Corrigan claimed that Rockefeller had been trying to squeeze him and force him to sell at a figure much below the market value of the shares. Judge Burke has the equity of Corrigan in the shares assigned to himself.

Ferrell's Remains Sent Home.

Columbus, O., March 2.—The body of Rosslyn W. Ferrell, the murderer, was removed from the penitentiary early yesterday morning and prepared for burial at Steubenville in a purple coffin. Many people viewed the remains, among them Patrick Costlow, father of the girl who was to have married Ferrell. Two roses, said to have been provided by Miss Costlow, are held in the hand of the corpse.

Thomas H. McLean Dean.

Toledo, March 2.—Thomas H. McLean, manager of the Toledo Traction company, died of pneumonia, caused by wounds in the throat, self-inflicted, last Saturday. He was at times manager of the Twenty-third street railway of New York, and of the Citizens' street railway of Indianapolis, and the electric lines in the City of Mexico. He came to Toledo in 1898.

A Romance of War Days.

Akron, O., March 2.—George W. Hulett, of Kent, has gone to Tennessee to marry Mrs. Flora Wiggons. Hulett was shot in a battle during the civil war and was nursed back to health by Flora Lowe, then a beautiful young woman. After the war Hulett returned home and was married. His wife died and a year ago he made a trip south. He traced his nurse of 35 years ago and found that she too had married, but was a widow. He proposed marriage and was accepted.

BUCKEYE BRIEFS.

Mrs. Charles Thayer, a bride, was instantly killed by a train at the station at Dunkirk, O.

At Massillon, William Ries was attacked by a savage mastiff. He was bitten eight times and may die.

The Mahoning Rubber company, Youngstown, capital $400,000, has been incorporated by John Tod, Henry K. Wick, W. Scott Bonnell, H. L. Rowland and John S. McClurg.

The announcement is made by Judge James W. Campbell, of the National Glass company, that the plants of the company will be removed to Cambridge, O., and centralized in the new plant which the company proposes to erect there. He says the burned Rochester (Pa.) plant will be transferred there.

TO TREAT LIQUOR FIENDS.

A Bill in Pennsylvania House—Joint Personal Registration Amendment Offered.

Harrisburg, March 2.—In the house Friday Mr. Maloney, of Venango, introduced, by request, a bill to provide for the care of persons of aggravated intemperate habits in a hospital or state insane asylum until they are cured, and in case of a recurrence of their former habits they shall be re-committed. The Henderson fraternal beneficial association bill was re-committed to the committee on banks against the protest of Mr. Scott, of Allegheny. Mr. Bedford, of Philadelphia, offered a resolution that electors committee be discharged from further consideration of the ballot reform bill and that it be placed on the calendar. The resolution goes over under the rule until the next session. Mr. Paul, of Philadelphia, presented a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution for personal registration.

The resolution is identical with that adopted by the last legislature and vetoed by Governor Stone. The supreme court overruled the veto and the resolution was advertised by Secretary of the Commonwealth Griest before the last general election. Should it be adopted by the present legislature it will be voted for at the next legislature. Mr. Paul withdrew his resolution to allow his colleagues to make an argument on the question as to whether it is necessary to refer to committee the proposed amendment to the constitution. Mr. Hall, of Allegheny, offered a resolution, which was adopted, directing the chief clerk to provide a mace for the sergeant-at-arms and that a suitable place be provided for it in the chamber of the house. Mr. Hall explained that the mace was the symbol of authority of the sergeant-at-arms, and under the rules he ought to be provided with one. Mr. Voorhees, of Philadelphia, supported the resolution.

THE LAW VINDICATED.

Lynching Prevented and a Rapist Sentenced, in Illinois.

Carrollton, Ills., March 2.—Guarded by four companies of state militia to protect him from a mob determined on lynching, Albert Shenkle, who, on Dec. 23 last, criminally assaulted the 16-year-old daughter of Charles H. Giller, of Carrollton, was taken from the county jail at Springfield, placed on a special train and brought to Carrollton. Through streets lined with silent spectators he was hurried to the court house. About an hour after the arrival of the train Shenkle had pleaded guilty, received an indeterminate sentence and was on his way to the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Chester.

Consul Wood Dead.

Washington, March 2.—Word was received at the state department that Mr. Alexander Wood, of Pennsylvania, United States consul at Kiel, Germany, died of paralysis. Mr. Wood was appointed consul at Kiel in October, 1899.

Nominated For Consul to Patras.

Washington, March 2.—Frank W. Jackson, of Pennsylvania, was nominated by the president to be consul at Patras, Greece.

Itching Scalp.

Scald Head and the Most Violent Forms of Eczema and Salt Rheum Promptly and Thoroughly Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Among small children, scald head and similar itching skin diseases are most prevalent, and the worst feature is that these ailments, which are apparently trivial at first, almost invariably develop into chronic eczema if neglected.

There is but one treatment that physicians are unanimous in recommending for scald heads and eczema, and that is Dr. Chase's Ointment, the great antiseptic healer. It promptly stops the distressing itching which accompanies these diseases, and positively produces a thorough and complete cure.

Scores and thousands of men and women stand ready to vouch for the merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has brought about some of the most marvelous cures ever recorded. In justice to yourself and family, you cannot do without it in your home.

Mr. J. H. Grant, 716 Joseph Campan avenue, Detroit, Mich., writes: "For three years I have been troubled by an intense itching on my body. So terrible was it at times that I could get no rest night or day. I tried all kinds of ointments and blood purifiers, but could get no relief. Mr. H. A. Nicolai of 379 Division street recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. A few applications stopped the itching and I have felt nothing since."

Baby Eczema.

Mr. F. S. Rose of 133 Sixteenth street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"Our baby boy suffered for some time with that wretched eczema, and we were unable to find anything to cure or even relieve his pain. A few applications of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment stopped the itching and healed the sores, and a bright, natural skin now takes their place."

Dr. Chase's Ointment does not cause pain when applied, but soothes the sore or inflamed surface. 50 cents at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Wade's for wedding presents.

Wanted to Broaden Him.

Charles B. Hanford while playing in a Texas town was approached by a young man in typical cowboy fashion, who said:

"Are you the manager of this play that comes tonight?"

Mr. Hanford said he was.

"Do you want to hire a man to help act?"

"No. My company is complete."

"Want to hire a man to help count money?"

"No."

"Want to hire a man to get out in the back of the theater and holler and applaud?"

"Not this tour. The audiences are attending to that very satisfactorily."

"Want anybody for anything on earth?"

"Not that I think of at present."

"Well, that's just our luck. We've got a man here who recites pieces in consideration of being treated. If he doesn't get treated, he'll hang around and make the barroom unpleasant for hours. We don't want to hurt him, for he's a good sort in the main. But he only knows three pieces—Mark Antony's oration, Hamlet's soliloquy and Rlenzi's address to the Romans. We thought that if you could flatter his mind into the belief that he's a great genius and haul him around the country two or three trips, so that he can learn a few new pieces from you, we'd be willing to make up a purse that would come mighty near making it worth while."—New York Telegram.

Emerson's Last Lecture.

In his "Eccentricities of Genius" Major Pond tells the pathetic story of Ralph Waldo Emerson's last lecture, delivered in the Old South church in Boston for the fund to save that building from demolition:

"As he began reading his lecture the audience was very attentive. After a few moments he lost his place, and his granddaughter, sitting in the front row of seats, gently stepped toward him and reminded him that he was lecturing. He saw at once that he was wandering, and, with the most charming, characteristic, apologetic bow, he resumed his place, an incident that seemed to affect the audience more than anything else that could possibly have occurred. A few moments later he took a piece of manuscript in his hand and, turning around with it, laid it on a side table. Just then one of the audience said to me (I think it was Mrs. Livermore or Mr. Howe), 'Please have the audience pass right out,' and, rushing up to Mr. Emerson, said, 'Thank you so much for that delightful lecture,' then, turning around, waved the audience to go out.

"He probably had been speaking about 15 minutes. The audience passed out, many of them in tears. It was one of the most pathetic sights I ever witnessed."

His Exact Words.

Interviewer—Alderman Swelhed, I have come to get your views on the proposed change in the curriculum of the grammar school.

Alderman Swelhed—Curriculum! What's that? I'm ag'in it, whatever it is.

Alderman Swelhed, reading the report of the interviewer next morning: "Our distinguished townsman, Mr. M.

T. Swelhed, was found at his charming home, surrounded by abundant indication of ripe scholarship and sturdy common sense. In reply to our reporter's question he said:

"I do not desire to force my opinions upon the public, but this I will say, that I have given to this question long and studious attention, incidentally examining into the curricula of institutions of learning both at home and abroad, and, although I find in the existing course of study not a few matters for condemnation, still, upon the whole, I cannot say that I should advise any radical change until I have further time to examine into the subject."

"By George, that feller's got my exact language, word for word! And he didn't take no notes neither! By George, what a memory that feller must have!"—Tit-Bits.

"Yes, I consider my life a failure."

"Oh, Henry, how sad! Why should you say that?"

"I spent all my time making money enough to buy food and clothes, and the food disagrees with me, and my clothes don't fit."—Life.

SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1901

DEATH-TRAPS IN HOMES.

There are many reasons for rejoicing at the approach of spring. One most excellent one is that it will diminish the number of horrible deaths by burning. Not a day passes that the newspapers do not chronicle from one to a dozen cases where persons, usually infants or aged women, have been burned to death by their clothing taking fire at an open-front stove or an unprotected grate. In fact, the record of the past winter has proved that the open fire-place has become a close rival of the railroad grade crossing in meting out death to the undeserving and the unwary. East Liverpool and vicinity have furnished an alarmingly large number of these shocking accidents, and every section of the country where natural gas or soft coal is used for fuel has helped to swell the terrible quota. It seems useless to urge caution and care; the warning always comes too late. Meantime death-traps, in which innocent infants and feeble women are liable to be caught and killed at any moment, continue to lurk in hundreds of households. Is there no remedy? Surely there must be one. An obvious precaution would be the use of a little common sense in the construction of fire-places. If this cannot be had except under compulsion, then let there be legislation. A small screen of gauze wire, stretched in front of every open fire, would prevent the loss of scores of lives yearly. Why should not health authorities and legislators give the matter their attention? It is true that a man's house is his castle, but even in his castle a man has no right to maintain an apparatus that constantly endangers the life of his wife and children. There are laws regulating sanitary appliances and plumbing used in houses, and there should be a law forbidding the unprotected grate, and it should be enforced to the letter.

A HOOSIER WOMAN'S IDEA.

Markleville, Ind., is a small village, but it has three saloons. It has no Carrie Nation, and being too insignificant to attract her notice, will have to worry along without. But Markleville has some determined women, who seem to have ideas that they did not send to Kansas for. Some of them tried saloon smashing, but the saloons wouldn't stay smashed. Then a leader arose and showed her sisters her way to pulverize the rum power. This is the way her idea worked in practice, according to a dispatch from Hoosierdom: "She is a woman of large proportions, and, procuring a clapboard, she went to the saloon which her husband frequented. She found her husband, with a half dozen other men, seated about a card table, with a glass of beer in front of him. She grabbed her husband by the neck, and, seating herself in a chair, pulled him across her lap, applied the clapboard vigorously. The husband made a feeble effort to get up, but found the wife much the stronger. After tiring of the clapboard, the irate wife took her husband by the ear and led him to the other saloons and warned him to remain away from them, and then went home. Three other women led their husbands from the saloon by the ears."

The Markleville method seems to have several advantages over that of Mrs. Nation. Crusaders with clapboards will not incur the same danger of going to jail that they would if armed with hatchets. The risks are less in every way and the satisfaction to be got out of it, by all except the erring husbands, infinitely greater.

SCOUTED BY SCIENTISTS.

Nicola Tesla's talk of the inhabitants of Mars and the mysterious signals which he claims to have observed is ridiculed by the genuine scientists, of whom Tesla is not one. The question whether the planets are inhabited is as old as humanity. Nevertheless Mr. Tesla, smart young man that he is, has revived interest in that sort of speculation and incidentally attracted attention to himself, which, although it may not have been his primary object, is doubtless fully appreciated. Mr. Tesla has done some wonderful things, but he has also promised more than he has performed. When he gets in communication with Mars the world will want convincing evidence of the fact or it will still be incredulous. It is an interesting theme to talk about, but talk will never solve the problem. The notion that the Martians have been flashing signals to the inhabitants of the earth might have been credited in the age in which the tales of heathen mythology had their birth, but the sober scientists of this prosaic period cannot be expected to notice it further than to scout it.

Youngstown and New Castle from now on propose to go along like Romeo and Juliet along a lovers' lane, says the Youngstown Vindicator. Yes, precisely like them, with limitless conversation powers when they begin talking about each other.

Two hundred extra copies of the News Review were printed and sold last evening. This is the sort of appreciation which is gratifying to the publishers, and certainly very encouraging for the first day. Keep on coming, friends; you will find the paper to improve on further acquaintance.

An anti-hazing amendment has been tacked on the military academy bill. It is a good thing and should be pushed along. Uncle Sam cannot afford to maintain a school of ruffianism at West Point or elsewhere.

The whole country will rejoice when congress adjourns, if for no other reason than because it will compel Lentz, the common scold, to seek some other forum on which to make a nuisance of himself.

David B. Hill is not letting the office seek the man. He believes, with the late Benjamin Butler, that what is worth having is worth asking for.

Political skirmish lines have been established in this city to stand until March 16.

Pittsburg's mayor's name is Diehl, but it is likely soon to be Dennis.

Township Expenses for February.

The report of the township trustees for the month of February is as follows: Township expenses, $158.68; county expenses, $173.83. The expenses last month were unusually heavy, owing to the large amount of sickness in the city.

CHECKER TOURNAMENT.

An Interesting Series of Games by Local Players.

A checker tournament was begun last night, which will be participated in by six local crack players.

Those taking part are Al Obney, O. D. Nice, Prof. Armour, Charles Price, Frank Kratz and Clarence Smith. The latter failed to show up last evening. The first meeting was held at the home of Mr. Obney, Bradshaw avenue, and the break was pretty even among all but Kratz, who was to have a handicap. This consisted of an agreement that if he won or drew either or both of the first two games they counted a win. Two series of 25 games each will be played during the tournament, and it will be hotly contested all the way through. It will probably take two weeks to finish the series.

The winner will receive a handsome and valuable copy of Gould's "British Draught Player."

A BASE BALL CLUB SURE.

This City to Have a First-Class One This Season.

East Liverpool is to have a first-class base ball club this season picked from the best players in the city. The club will be under a good management, and every effort will be made to prevent the organization of rival clubs in the city.

IMPROVEMENT WANTED.

Residents of Lower Monroe Street Say it Should Be Paved.

The condition of lower Monroe street is the source of much complaint on the part of the residents in that vicinity.

It is thought that the thoroughfare should be improved by paving, there being no reasonable excuse for not having the work done, as many valuable properties abut upon the street, and many residents say there would not be a single kick were the matter brought before the council. The condition of the street is abominable just at present, and resembles a country road much more than a city thoroughfare.

1,000,000 WOMEN RELIEVED

Reports received show that Wine of Cardui has brought permanent relief to 1,000,000 suffering women in the last few years. Because of Wine of Cardui, thousands of sufferers, seemingly on the way to premature graves, are now healthy women taking an active interest in the duties of life. Mrs. Mitchell was declining in health when Wine of Cardui "performed a miraculous cure" in her case. She suffered terribly with the agonies of falling of the womb, leucorrhoea and profuse menstruation. The weekly appearance of the menses for two months sapped her vitality until she was little better than a physical wreck. Her nervous system gave way under the terrible pain and aggravation. Then came the trial of Wine of Cardui and the cure. Mrs. Mitchell's experience ought to commend Wine of Cardui to suffering women in words of burning eloquence. The Wine is within the reach of all. Woman who try it are relieved. You can get as much benefit as Mrs. Mitchell received. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui. Send to the laboratory for the medicine if he tenders you a substitute.

WINE OF CARDUI

South Gaston, N. C., May 29, 1899.

Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught have performed a miraculous cure in my case. I have been a great sufferer from falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and my menses came every week for two months and became very painful. I was in a bad condition. My husband induced me to try Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught, and now I have no pain. The leucorrhoea has disappeared and now I am in perfect health. Mrs. WILLIE MITCHELL.

PAUPER WHO HAD MONEY IN BANK

Which Comes From Beaver
County, Pa.

A Man Who Hailed from East Liverpool Got Into the Poor House And Then It Was Found He Had Property And Money at Interest.

Some time since a man about 58 years of age went to the poor
farm and secured permission to stay there, says the Beaver Falls
Review. In some manner the poor directors received the intelligence that the man had money,
and one of the officials went to East Liverpool, the former home
of the inmate, to make an investigation as to the latter's property.

On his return the directors decided to search the clothing of
the inmate. They did so on Saturday, and found, tightly sewed
in a vest pocket, a certificate of deposit on a Beaver bank for $340. The man also had a few dollars in his clothes. The director who went to East Liverpool
learned that the inmate had $600
worth of stock in a brick yard in that city, and was also told that he had money loaned on interest.

The certificate of deposit was given into the keeping of the poor board's attorney, and the directors say that when the inmate desires to leave the home he can
pay two dollars per week for his board at the home.

Arrangements for Services During the Pastor's Absence.

Rev. N. M. Crowe, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, will occupy
his pulpit tomorrow for the last time
for several months. He will leave
next week with his daughter Mabel
for El Paso, Tex., where they expect
to remain at least until the 1st of June. Through the kindness of his brethren in the ministry he has been enabled to make the following assignments for the supply of his pulpit
during his absence. Many of these whose names appear here voluntarily
tendered their services:

March 10, Rev. W. E. Hill; March
17, Rev. J. N. Swan, 11 a. m. and Rev.
P. W. Snyder 7:30; March 24, Rev. F.
P. Leyenberger and Rev. S. F. Boston;
March 31, Rev. W. E. Hill and Rev.
J. N. Swan, communion day; April 7,
Rev. R. A. McKinly, D. D.; April 14,
Rev. J. A. Platts; April 21, Rev. O. F.
Laughbaum; April 28, Rev. C. S. V.
McKee; May 5, Rev. E. F. McIlvain;
May 12, Rev. T. J. Gray; April 19, Rev.
W. E. Hill; April 26, Rev. J. N. Swan
at 11 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. union
memorial services in the church, when
Rev. G. W. Orcutt will preach.

A series of special meetings will begin March 18 and continue for two weeks or longer if necessary. On Monday and Tuesday evenings, March 18
and 19, Rev. J. P. Leyenberger will preach; Wednesday, March 20, Rev. W.
E. Hill and Rev. J. N. Swan; March
21 and 22, Rev. Charles G. Jordan. Rev.
S. T. Boston will preach the week beginning Monday, March 25. The session of the church, assisted by Rev.
J. N. Swan and Rev. W. E. Hill, will look after the Wednesday evening
prayer meeting.

SOUTH SIDE.

A FAMILY AFFAIR.

Ball Bats And Butcher Knives Figure
In It But Nobody Is Injured.

A battle in which ball bats and butcher knives were already drawn
was averted by a lack of nerve on the part of the instigator at the Neal
house in the lower part of town last night.

It is reported that Miss Minnie Neal,
who has been ill for some time, grew worse toward the latter part of the night and a doctor was summoned.

Clinton Davis, the girl's fiance, who had been taking care of her during her illness, had made sufficient noise
to disturb the slumbers of her stepfather, who procured a butcher knife
and started to clean out the house.
Davis grabbed a ball bat and the old man changed his mind. At this point
Mrs. Neal appeared on the scene and
put both the men out.

Davis returned to East Liverpool
this morning, while the stepfather made for the squire's office and swore
out a warrant for his arrest.

FOR A NEW CATHOLIC DIOCESE.

One to Be Created in the Vicinity of Altoona.

Pittsburg, March 2.—Pipe Leo XIII
will, within the next two months,
promulgate a bull for the division of the Catholic diocese of Pittsburg and Harrisburg, and the creation of a new episcopal see, the seat of which will be Altoona. This is the result of a council of the suffragan bishops of the province, held Tuesday afternoon
at the residence of Archbishop P. J.
Ryan, of Philadelphia.

The Congregation of Sacred Rites
has approved the petition for a division, and this petition, signed by the pope, was forwarded at once to Archbishop Ryan. The Rev. John
Boyle, vicar forane of the Pittsburg
diocese, has been mentioned as first
bishop of the new see.

The new diocese of Altoona will be made up of Cambria, Somerset, Bedford and Blair counties, which are to be detached from this diocese, and of Center, Clinton and Fulton counties,
detached from the diocese of Harrisburg. The formation of this see will make a split in the archdiocese of Philadelphia, as Schuylkill and Carbon, which are under Archbishop Ryan's charge, will be added to Harrisburg by way of compensation for the counties taken to form the new
see. The entire arrangement has been made for the purpose of relieving Bishop Phelan of a too onerous duty
of covering such an immense territory as is comprised in the present
area of Pittsburg diocese.

QUAY TALKS ON RIPPER.

Said People of Pittsburg Wanted It and Assembly Acted.

Philadelphia, March 2.—Senator
Quay and Governor Stone were in this city a short time, stopping off
en route from Harrisburg to Washington. The senator was questioned
regarding his opinion of the passage
of the reform charter for Pittsburg,
Allegheny and Scranton. He said:

"The people of Pittsburg wanted
the change and the assembly passed
the bill. That was very proper and fitting. The Republican party was pledged by the state convention to enact certain reforms. It is now redeeming these pledges."

Governor Stone went to Atlantic City last evening. On Sunday he will go to Washington to participate in the inaugural ceremonies.

Called His Papa Down.

Little Willy is a bright boy and a saucy boy. His apt answers have often turned away wrath and often turned it upon him strongly. The other day his father was reprimanding him for some misdeed, and Willy was answering very
saucily.

The father became very angry and,
seizing the youngster by the collar,
said: "See here, young man, you must not talk like that to me. I never gave my father impudence when I was a boy."

Willy was not feazed at all. With a cherubic smile he looked into papa's
eyes and said, "But, papa, maybe your father didn't need it." 'Twas all off.
Willy escaped punishment, while papa
retired to another room.—Albany Jour-

VETS WILL PARADE

Old Soldiers Agree to Take Part In the Ceremonies of Inauguration Day.

COMPROMISE OF THE DISPUTE

Grand Army Men to Form the Escort of the President—Porto Rican Battalion Arrives—Features of the Great Parade Next Monday.

Washington, March 2.—The dispute between the inaugural committee and the war veterans over the matter of precedence in the parade Monday resulted in a compromise, under which the veterans will take part to a certain extent in the ceremonies. At a conference between Secretary Root, General Francis V. Greene, grand marshal of the parade, and General Daniel E. Sickles, it was decided that the local and visiting Grand Army veterans will form the honorary escort to the president from the white house to the capitol on the 4th of March. The further conclusion was reached that the veterans will not participate in the afternoon parade on the return from the capitol to the white house, but after the procession has passed through the court of honor they will be reviewed by the president.

General Heywood, commandant of marines, has issued an order directing one regiment of marines, consisting of three battalions of four companies each, and the Marine band, with the required number of officers, to assemble in Washington for the purpose of participating in the inaugural parade. Colonel P. C. Pope will have command of the marine detachment.

The college men invited to participate in the inaugural parade have been assigned to form the first brigade of the third division of the civic section of the pageant. General O. O. Howard will command the division. The college men in the parade will march in the following order, their positions being fixed by the date of the charter of the institution they respectively represent:

St. John's military academy, Annapolis, Md.
Princeton university.
Charleston college, Charleston, S. C.
Georgetown university, District of Columbia.
University of West Virginia.
Columbian university, Washington, D. C.
Mercer university, Macon, Ga.
Virginia military institute.
Gallaudet college, Washington, D. C.
University of Kansas.
Maryland Agricultural college.
University of California.
Iowa State college.
Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Md.
Grove City college, Grove City, Pa.
Carlisle Indian Industrial school.
West Virginia Conference seminary.
National university, Washington, D. C.
Morningside college, Sioux City, Ia.
United States College of Veterinary Surgeons, Washington, D. C.
The training ship Dixie, which has aboard a naval detachment to participate in the parade, was in the lower Potomac yesterday, and will, it was expected, reach Alexandria today. The Hartford, Admiral Farragut's famous old flagship, was able to make her way up the river to a point opposite the Washington arsenal. The Lancaster was expected to reach Alexandria Sunday night. The Topeka had not passed in the Capes yesterday, or at least had not reported. It was doubted whether she would reach Washington in time to participate in the inaugural ceremonies. Without her the navy will have a thousand men in line, but if she arrives in season this will be swelled to 1,300 or 1,400.
The Rawlins, with the Porto Rican battalion that is to participate in the inaugural ceremonies, arrived at Fortress Monroe yesterday afternoon.

Killed One Burglar; Captured Another.
Wheeling, March 2.—At Claysville, Pa., about 70 miles east of here, Town Constable John Neely shot and killed

one burglar and captured another after a desperate fight. The burglars had entered half a dozen houses and were finally located in a store. They fought desperately and Neely was badly hurt. The coroner's jury exonerated the officer.

SOME EVENTS IN BRIEF.

Scranton, Pa.—Another big anthracite coal deal has been consummated by the purchase by the Delaware and Hudson company of the Laffin, Langcliffe, Greenwood and Brooks Coal companies.

Philadelphia—The shirt manufacturing establishment of Tuttleman Bros. & Egan, at Adams avenue and Church street, this city, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $70,000; fully covered by insurance.

Malone, N. Y.—Twenty-five China men were captured on the Canadian line north of Malone and are in jail here. The same number were said to be coming today. They probably will be taken to Ogdensburg.

Baltimore—The extensive establishment of Hirschberg, Hollander & Co., dealers in paints and oils, at 23 and 25 Hanover street, burned, entailing a loss of $100,000. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Philadelphia—Judge McPherson, in the United States district court, sentenced D. S. Ogden, who was found guilty on Tuesday last of violating the oleomargarine law, to two months imprisonment and to pay a fine of $200.

Highland Falls, N. Y.—Arthur Engelskircher, aged 13 years, shot and killed his cousin, Joseph Engelskircher, the same age, in the jewelry store of his father here. Arthur was handling his father's shotgun, and, playfully pointing it at Joseph, pulled the trigger.

Lincoln—Nebraska state penitentiary, three miles from this city, was almost destroyed by fire. The loss will be about $800,000. There was no disorder among the convicts, who were guarded by militiamen hastily summoned from Lincoln. One convict perished.

New York—The price of roasted coffee has been advanced one-half a cent a pound to 10½ cents net by the Woolson Spice company, which is controlled by the American Sugar Refining interests. This brings the price up to a level with that of the Arabica. The sugar and coffee war has been settled.

Washington—The success of the movement to have congress declare that the gates of the St. Louis exposition should be closed on Sundays was due in a great measure to the energetic work of Rev. Dr. J. W. Hathaway, general secretary of the American Sabbath union, of New York, assisted by Senator Teller and Representative Grout.

Topeka, Kan.—Mrs. Carrie Nation returned to Topeka from Peoria, Ill., where she went to edit a newspaper for a day. Upon her arrival here she went at once to the county jail, where she gave herself over to the custody of the sheriff. The $2,000 bond which Mrs. Nation was required to give before she left the city was cancelled. Her trial, it was expected, comes up at the April term of the district court.

St. Petersburg—Larpovitch, who shot and wounded the minister of public instruction, M. Bogoliefpoff, last Wednesday, while the minister was holding a reception, and who was subsequently arrested, was expelled from the Moscow university in 1896 for taking part in the students' riots there. He was also expelled from the Dorpat university for the same reasons in 1898, and studied at the Berlin university in 1900.

Mrs. Rachel Gilson.

A telegram message was received in this city yesterday announcing the death of Mrs. Richard Gilson at her home at Inverness. She was 40 years of age and death was caused by a complication of diseases. Mrs. Gilson was a cousin of J. B. Williams, of College street, who left this morning to attend the funeral, which occurred this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment was made at Inverness.

WEARY OF WARFARE

Mary Rebel Officers and Bolomen In Southern Luzon Have Surrendered.

RUSSIAN PAINTER IN THE FIELD

The Great Verestschagin in the Philippines Searching for Material for New Pictures—He Is Favorably Impressed With the American Soldiers

Manila, March 2.—Twenty-one rebel officers and 120 bolomen have surrendered to Lieutenant Desque, of the Forty-seventh United States volunteer infantry, at the town of Irocin, in Albay province, Southern Luzon.

The federalists are securing many new members for their party in Laguna province, east of Manila. Vassaili Verestschagin, the Russian painter of battle scenes, has reached the Philippine islands searching for new war pictures. He has called upon General MacArthur. Verestschagin is favorably impressed with the American soldiers and has made many sketches of the battle fields near Manila.

Excitement over gold mining in the province of Le Panto, in Northern Luzon, is increasing. A number of pockets have been discovered, but no well-defined ledges have been found.

Balanga, Province of Bataan, Luzon, March 2.—When the launch bearing the members of the United States Philippine commission appeared off the shore of the mountainous peninsular province of Bataan, it was met by more than a hundred oarsmen, stripped to their waists. On the boats were painted the names of the towns they hailed from, and in them were the head men of the villages.

Each flotilla passed the commission's launch in review, the oarsmen shouting "vivas." The whole procession then scurried toward the shore, headed by a sail banco towing a canopied barge, in which were the members of the commission and their party.

The barge grounded amid a crush of small boats, and the younger natives sprang into the water and dragged it to a point where were wagons hub-deep.

These carried the visitors to dry land to Puerto Rivas, and thence to Balanga, passing through lines of natives and streets of flag-decorated houses to the military headquarters.

The public session of the commission passed off as previous public sessions had elsewhere.

A List of Names Sent by General MacArthur, From the Philippines, to the War Department.

Washington, March 2.—General MacArthur sent a casualty report from the Philippines as follows:

Manila March 1, 1901.

The following deaths have occurred since last report:

All other causes—Feb. 19, Co. F, 43d I., Clarence L. Anderson; Feb. 7, Co. I, 16th I., Sergeant Locke Castlebury, drowned, body recovered; Feb. 17, Battery A, 6th artillery, Sergeant Jesse C. Coplinger; Jan. 20, Co. B, 43d I., William H. Hartman; Feb. 19, Co. K, 17th I., John Kellick; Feb. 20, Acting Assistant Surgeon James L. Rebbett; Co. L, 16th I., George S. Smedley; Co. I, 21st I., Joseph M. Spencer; Feb. 19, Co. C, battalion of engineers, Harry W. Starbird.

A Difficult Wife.

An Englishman thus describes the wife of his bosom in his will: "Heaven seems to have sent her into the world solely to drive me out of it. The strength of Samson, the genius of Homer, the prudence of Augustine, the skill of Pyrrhus, the patience of Job, the philosophy of Socrates, the subtlety of Hannibal, the vigilance of Hermogenes, would not suffice to subdue the perversity of her character."—Exchange.

KNOX FOR CABINET

All President McKinley's Advisers Resign, But Are Expected to Be Renominated—General Regret Over Failure of Treaties.

Washington, March 2.—At the cabinet meeting, the last under this presidential term, all of the members presented to the president their resignations, to take effect upon the qualification of their successors. Attorney General Griggs, who is the only member who has decided not to remain during the coming four years, was among the number and his renomination will go to the senate with the others on Tuesday. He will not serve longer, however, than about April 1, when, it is now believed, Mr. Philander C. Knox, of Pittsburg, will receive the appointment.

The cabinet talked over the Cuban situation, and Secretary Root read telegrams from General Wood to the effect that in his opinion the Cubans would soon become convinced that the action of congress in fixing the relations which should exist between Cuba and the United States was for their interest as well as our own, and would accept them without serious objections.

The cabinet discussed the action of the senate with respect to the treaties now pending in that body, and general regret was expressed at their impending failure.

NO EXTRA SESSION.

Washington, March 2.—The house removed possibility of an extra session by concurring in the senate amendments to the army appropriation bill. The vote stood 159 to 134. It was a strict party vote, with the exception of Mr. McCall, of Massachusetts; Mr. Loud, of California; Mr. Driscoll, of New York, and Mr. Mann, of Illinois, who voted with the Democrats. Mr. Cooper, of Wisconsin, answered present and was not paired. The bill now goes to the president. The house was brought to a vote by a special order prepared by the committee on rules, which permitted an hour's debate on a side. The Democrats attempted to filibuster, but they were overwhelmed. The debate was not especially noteworthy. The Philippine and Cuban amendments were defended by the Republicans and assailed by the Democrats. The only exciting incident occurred at the close of the debate, when Mr. Hull, of Iowa, whose name had been connected with a lumber and development company in the Philippines, frankly acknowledged that he had invested money in it. He said it was a legitimate enterprise, which was not looking for government favors. Subsequently, when he stated that the company would not have invested money if Bryan had been elected, the Democrats jeered and hissed, and shouted that it was because if Bryan had been elected the Philippines would not have been exploited. Mr. Lentz, of Ohio, challenged Mr. Hull's right to vote, but Mr. Hull voted aye. The final conference report upon the Indian appropriation bill was adopted and a number of minor bills were put through the final stages.

The conference report on the St. Louis exposition bill, which agreed to Sunday closing, was agreed to and the bill was sent back to conference. A motion to concur in the Charleston exposition amendment was defeated, 84 to 132. The revenue cutter service bill was sidetracked early in the day by a vote of the house.

They Changed. A Vienna paper relates an anecdote of the painter Makart, who was sometimes as taciturn as Von Moltke. One evening at a dinner he sat for an hour next to the sourette Josephine Gallmeyer without volunteering a word. Finally she lost patience and exclaimed: "Well dear master, suppose we change the subject."

THE BIG STEEL COMBINE.

Dun's Review Said It Had Not Directly Effected Business—Some Features of Trade Review.

New York, March 2.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says in part:

Jobbing trade in groceries, hardware and iron specialties has further gained in volume in the east since our last report, and retail business has been good except for a slow movement of some descriptions of dry goods, notably clothing, of which dealers fear they must carry over unusually large stocks. In the west and southwest, however, the season has been satisfactory. The greatest industrial combination ever arranged, that providing for the union of the leading steel interests, has not directly effected business as yet, and may not do so, otherwise than by removing some of the unnecessary competition from the industry.

Nominal quotations of iron and steel are misleading. According to published lists it appears that, while pig iron has steadily advanced for many weeks, little change has occurred in finished products. This discrepancy is due to the figures fixed by the various pools and associations, but at which it is impossible to secure prompt deliveries. Actual business is done at extensive advances over these prices, billets selling at $21 at Pittsburg, or more than a dollar above the nominal rate, while plates, bars and structural shapes are only available when special terms are offered. Even on distant deliveries mills are asking higher figures, and every line of steel production at Pittsburg has already covered full contracts for the next two months, while there is a general feeling that material advances will occur before May 1. Bessemer pig iron sold this week at $15.25 and grey forge at $19, prices that have not been equaled since early in August. Coke production is enormous, and Connellsville prices at last show a definite advance. Further increase appears in sales of wool at the three chief eastern markets, 8,830,500 pounds changing hands for the week, against 8,528,500 in the previous week.

Domestic crop conditions are encouraging and the best explanation of strength is found in Atlantic exports during February of wheat, flour included, amounting to 10,348,204 bushels, against 7,671,552 last year, and 14,730,262 bushels of corn, against 12,724,645 in 1900.

Commercial failures in February were 1,024 in number and $11,287,211 in amount, compared with 1,242 in January, with liabilities of $11,220,811.

PRESSURE WAS RELAXED.

Steel Stocks Scored Unequal Recoveries, on Friday.

New York, March 2.—Pressure was relaxed against the steel stocks in Friday's market and they scored unequal recoveries. Probably this had as much to do with the better tone of the stock market as anything that could be cited. National Tube was the most effected, with a rally of 3½, and Steel and Wire is about 2 points higher. Other members of the group gained between 1 and 2 points. There was a marked decline in speculative interest in this department of the stock market, incident to the completion of the process of adjustment of prices to the conditions disclosed early in the week of the steel merger. Until this condition in the steel stocks had been fairly disclosed there was more or less heaviness in the general market. The realizing in St. Paul on the stock privileges carried it down a point, but it was well supported at that level, and later scored a full recovery. After the turn in the market had set in there were large buying movements developed in a number of individual stocks or allied groups of stocks. This was most notable among the Gould southwest erns, including Missouri Pacific, the St. Louis Southwesterns, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas stocks and the Wabashes. The extreme advance here ran from 1 to 2½, the latter in Missouri Pacific, and 2½ in St. Louis Southwestern preferred.

The continued ease of the money market detracted from any apprehension over today's bank statement, which is expected to show a decline in cash reserve owing to the absorption of over $3,000,000 by the sub-treasury this week. Money still moves toward New York from the interior, although New York exchange at Chicago has declined steadily to 30 cents discount. The London money market relaxed Friday with the release of funds tied up by month end requirements, and sterling exchange here eased off in response.

The bond market was moderately active and irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,315,000.

United States refunding 2s coupon advanced ¼ per cent on the last call.

Such Orders Sent to Chaffee—Those to Be Removed to Be Taken to the Philippines.

Washington, March 2.—Carrying out the policy inaugurated by the state department when it changed its military force in China into a legation guard, the war department sent orders to General Chaffee to still further reduce his force. The general has under his command about 1,800 men, composed of Troops 1, K, L and M, Sixth United States cavalry; Battery F, Fifth artillery, and the Ninth infantry. Although nominally a legation guard, General Chaffee's force is of rather formidable offensive quantity, and not desirous of retaining an unnecessary menace to the Chinese court, and in order to hold out inducements for its early return to Peking, the United States government some time ago determined upon a further reduction of the American force, and the orders went forward. Considerable discretion was left to General Chaffee in the selection of the troops to remain, and it is assumed at the department that the Peking dispatches announcing that these consist of two companies of the Ninth infantry under Major Robertson is correct. If the other powers represented at Peking can be induced to follow this policy, it is hoped that a long step will have been effected toward the restoration of normal conditions in Peking.

It is said at the war department that the arrangements have not yet been made for bringing away the troops from Peking, and it is believed that this cannot be done before the ice clears out of the Pei river, which is usually some time in the latter part of March. The troops are to go to Manila, thereby making good the losses which General MacArthur's command will sustain through the withdrawal of the volunteers who are coming home to be mustered out. It is the understanding at the war department that General Chaffee, who will leave Peking with these troops, is to relieve General MacArthur of the supreme command in the Philippines.

STRONG HOLD ON LIFE.

Street Car, Clubs, Ax And Gun Used to Kill a Dog.

A street car, an ax, a gun and two clubs were necessary yesterday afternoon to put to death a cur whose hold on life made the traditional nine lives of the cat seem feeble in comparison.

The street car ran over the dog just above the power house, breaking both its legs. A power house employe dealt the dog three blows on the head with an ax and threw it over the river bank. In a few minutes its howls made life miserable for the nearby residents, and Mr. King administered a dose of buck shot.

About half an hour later the dog again set up a piteous wail, and two kilnmen who were passing came to its relief with clubs and beat its head clear off. Nothing has been heard from it since, but the motormen half expect its ghost to appear at the power house tomorrow.

A Young Girl

May be very old in suffering. She is very apt to neglect the earlier symptoms of disease. Often when she takes treatment it is the wrong treatment for her case. Very many young women write to Dr. Pierce and consult him by letter free. All such correspondence is strictly private, and womanly modesty is spared the shock of indelicate examinations, unpleasant questionings and offensive local treatments.

"I suffered with female trouble," writes Miss Agnes McGowne, of 1221 Bank St., Washington, D. C. "I tried various remedies but none seemed to do any permanent good. The doctors said it was the worse case of internal trouble they ever had. I decided to write to Doctor Pierce for help. I received a very encouraging reply and commenced treatment at once. I had not used the 'Favorite Prescription' a week before I began to feel better, and, as I continued, my health gradually improved. It is improving every day and I still continue to take the medicine."

GRANITE WARE.

THIS WILL HEREAFTER BE PRODUCED AT CHESTER.

The Taylor, Lee & Smith Pottery Will Carry Out Its Original
Plans.

"Quite a change will be made at the Taylor, Lee & Smith pottery at Chester, within the next week or so. It has been decided that in the future not only will porcelain be made at this plant, but granite ware will also be made. The plant closed for one week Friday evening in order that some changes might be made about the plant before the making of granite ware was commenced."

The foregoing is taken from the Commoner and Glassworker, of Pittsburg, and is not taken seriously by the potters generally in this city. The statement made by the correspondent is one of a number of stories which have been current in the city for some time. A majority of these were wide of the mark.

Will L. Taylor was approached in regard to the matter today and made the following statement:

"There have been no charges made in the original plans of the company, and the plant is not working at present because of some repairs. It has always been the intention of the firm to make both porcelain and white granite."

THIS CITY IN FAVOR.

IT CAN HAVE THE 1902 TURNFEST
IF IT WANTS IT.

Members of the Organization Now
Discussing And Investigating
the Matter.

It now an absolute certainty that if the local turner society wants the turnfest for 1902 it can bring it to East Liverpool, and from the expression of a number of prominent members this city will get it.

The affair is of far greater importance than some may suppose, as it invariably brings many thousands of people, and the event lasts four days.

There are over 400 turners in this district, and this number may be greatly increased before the time for holding the turnfest.

The organization here is just now engaged in making arrangements for the accommodation and entertainment, believing that it is the best plan by far to start early and go over the ground completely in order to be thoroughly acquainted with the requirements before definitely deciding as to whether or not they want the meeting.

The greatest difficulty experienced, so far is the absence of a field, properly located, which will be sufficiently large to accommodate the contestants in the athletic sports. This has given the local committee no end of trouble, and it is possible that the turners will be compelled to give up the idea on this account.

The Flight of Time.

A masked man confronted me with a pistol in a lonely spot on the dark road. "Cough up your chronometer," he demanded gruffly.

I fumbled for my 18 carat timepiece, thinking that my last hour was at hand. When I dared to look up, he had vanished with his plunder.

Even then, such is the incongruity of the human mind, though rejoiced that my time had not yet come, I regretted in my heart that it had gone. —New York Sun.

Bad For the Business.

"Yes, I had to let him go," replied the boss barber to the regular customer when the latter asked an explanation of the absence of his pet barber.

"Why?"

"Well, he insisted on raising whiskers."

"Raising whiskers? Great Scott! Isn't this a free country, where a man may raise whiskers if he so chooses?"

"Yes, this is a free country, and a man can do pretty much as he likes, but there's one thing he can't do and work for me, and that's it."

"Why do you object?"

"For three reasons. The first is that he was a rather cross looking fellow anyway. Whiskers would make him look crosser. In the second place, to raise whiskers it would be necessary for him to look like a Weary Willie for two or three weeks. In the third place—and this is reason enough, even if there were no other—if he should succeed in raising a good looking beard, he would set an example that might be followed by some customers. The result would be that instead of getting shaved three or four times a week, or even every day, they would content themselves with getting their whiskers trimmed once a fortnight or once a week. Such a move would seriously affect the cash box and for that reason is not to be tolerated."

"How many barbers have you seen wearing beards? Every barber realizes the force of my objection. Oh, yes, every man has constitutional rights that all should observe. So have I." —St. Louis Star.

Thomas Jefferson as a Letter Writer.

Mr. Jefferson probably wrote more letters with his own hand than any other public man that ever lived. The extent of his correspondence may be inferred from the fact that 26,000 letters neatly folded and briefed were preserved by him and found carefully filed away at the time of his death, with copies of the replies sent to more than 16,000. These, however, were only a small portion of his correspondence, as he retained only those he considered of future usefulness or importance.

Stenography was not invented at that time. Every one of his letters was written with his own hand and with great care, although after breaking his wrist while minister to France it became a great labor to him. His penmanship was small, plain and legible, every letter being perfectly formed, and his account books are kept in so small a hand that many of the pages cannot be read without a magnifying glass.

Jefferson was ambidextrous. He could write equally well with either hand. When his wrist was broken, he learned to write with his left hand, which became as skillful as the other. It would have been impossible for him to have carried on his extensive correspondence without being able to relieve his right hand at intervals. —Chicago Record.

Divided the Remedy.

The Philadelphia Record tells a story of a physician of that city who was called to see an old Irishman and his wife, down with colds. He advised quinine and whisky as an antidote. "You must both take it," he said. "Take it every three hours—two grains of quinine and a swallow of whisky." The next day he called again. The man was up and about, but his wife was in bed. "Did you follow my instructions?" asked the doctor.

"To the letter," replied the husband.

"How much quinine have you left?" was the next question.

"Sure, Oi tink she have taken th' whole av it," said the man.

"And didn't you take it, too?" asked the doctor.

"Divil th' bit," was the reply. "Bogorrah, it kept me busy takin th' whisky every toime she took a pill, an sure she's in bed an Oi'm up."

Five Persons Broke Jail.

MacArthur, O., March 2.—Five prisoners escaped from the jail here by digging through a brick wall. Four were burglars and the fifth was charged with murder.

MORGAN'S RAIDERS.

THE FAMOUS ROUGH RIDING CAMPAIGN OF THE CIVIL WAR.

It Carried Panic and Confusion Into Ohio and Indiana, but Resulted in No Benefit Whatever to the Confederate Cause.

"Cavalry riding," said the major, "is exciting, but very exhausting business. Long distance raids in an enemy's country can be made only where there are a good many horses. John Morgan could never have made his raid through Indiana and Ohio in 1863 if the counties raided had not been well supplied with the best horses in the west. When he started from the Cumberland river, in east Tennessee, Morgan believed that he would sweep everything before him and that, if properly supported, he would capture Cincinnati."

"Morgan, with a well organized brigade of cavalry 4,000 strong, swept northward from the Cumberland river through Kentucky to the Ohio river at Brandenburg, 40 miles below Louisville. There he captured two steamboats, crossed the river, swept through southern Indiana, galloped around Cincinnati, not more than ten miles from the city, and then moved eastward, expecting to cross the Ohio river at Buffington, but was driven back, made another attempt at Wellsville, but was finally captured at New Lisbon."

"This was the most remarkable raid of the war. It carried panic and confusion into Ohio and Indiana, but in results it was of no benefit whatever to the Confederate cause. Morgan believed that there would be an uprising in the Confederate interest in Kentucky. There was not. He believed that the peace Democrats in Ohio would give him at least secret support, but when his men stole the horses of the peace Democrats the latter joined the ranks of Morgan's pursuers, and before the raid was half over the whole state was aroused, and men who had taken no interest in the war previous to that time shouldered their squirrel rifles to fight the raiders who were stealing their horses and carrying the horrors of war to their very doors."

"There was hard riding all the time for Morgan's men. They left behind them a wreckage of broken down horses. They kept ahead of their Union pursuers simply because they stole horses right and left and remounted the men, but they were finally captured, and that fall Ohio gave the war party the largest majority in the history of the state up to that time. In fact, the Morgan raid, by carrying the war into the peaceful districts of Indiana and Ohio, provoked a furious feeling of resentment, which influenced people for 20 years."

"The comedy of the raid was furnished by the people of the districts wholly unused to war, wholly unprepared for it and with exaggerated ideas of the ferocity of Morgan's men. For two weeks it was only necessary for some mischievous boy to shout, 'Morgan is coming!' in any village in central or southern Ohio to create a panic. I know that many of the raiders after Morgan got no rest night or day, slept in the saddle, and not a few of them fell off their horses in sleep. At the end of the raid they were as exhausted as Morgan's men, but with a more difficult task to perform they never received half the praise given to the raiders."

"I remember," continued the major, "one case in which a woman stabled her carriage horses in the parlor for two days to keep them out of Morgan's hands. I saw Morgan's men ride by that house and saw some of them stop to listen at the unusual sound of horses' feet on a carpeted floor, but the parlor horses were not disturbed. Some of our neighbors drove their horses, cattle and sheep 30 miles into the interior and were away from home a week. Morgan's men looted right and left, and some of them had bolts of calico strapped to their saddles when they were captured."

"Morgan, it must be remembered, made his whole raid with artillery and a wagon train, but he was not in Ohio to fight, and he demonstrated at once the ease with which a peaceful district may be invaded by a mobile column and at the same time the peril involved in such a venture. In a few days 50,000 militiamen were in the field against him. At first he played with these green soldiers, but at last they hung on his flanks, eager for fight as bulldogs. In the last days Hobson's men, who had followed Morgan for

"Morgan's men knew by the maneuvering and the firing when they were faced by trained soldiers and the first charge of the Union cavalry had in it the impetus of delayed vengeance. The Unionists who rode in that charge had old scores to settle, and Morgan's tired veterans were overwhelmed. After Morgan had escaped from the penitentiary at Columbus and had reorganized his command and was again raiding Kentucky hundreds of Union soldiers on their way home for discharge left their trains and joined in the pursuit simply to get a crack at the old raider, and Morgan knew when their rifles spoke that he was up against the real thing."

What Frightened Him.

While crossing the isthmus of Panama by rail some years ago the conductor obligingly stopped the train for Mr. Campion to gather some beautiful crimson flowers by the roadside. It was midday and intensely hot. In his "On the Frontier" Mr. Campion tells a peculiar story of this flower picking experience.

I refused offers of assistance and went alone to pluck the flowers. After gathering a handful I noticed a large bed of plants knee high and of delicate form and a beautiful green shade. I walked to them, broke off a fine spray and placed it with the flowers.

To my amazement I saw that I had gathered a withered, shriveled, brownish weed. I threw it away, carefully selected a large, bright green plant and plucked it. Again I had in my hand a bunch of withered leaves.

It flashed through my mind that a sudden attack of Panama fever, which was very prevalent and much talked of, had struck me delirious.

I went "off my head" from fright. In a panic I threw the flowers down and was about to run to the train. I looked around. Nothing seemed strange. I felt my pulse. All right. I was in a perspiration, but the heat would have made a lizard perspire.

Then I noticed that the plants where I stood seemed shrunken and wilted. Carefully I put my finger on a fresh branch. Instantly the leaves shrank and began to change color. I had been frightened by sensitive plants.

No Keys to White House.

In these modern days the front door of the White House is not locked at night. Practically no doors are locked, and if the steward should look around for keys he would probably not find half of those formerly in use. Big policemen are about the only doors at the executive mansion. They guard the main doors at all hours of day and night, and there is no need to close and lock the inner doors. Before President Lincoln's time policemen were rare at the president's home, and when all the clerks and servants had gone home at night the housekeeper went around and carefully locked all the doors inside and outside except to rooms occupied by those going in and coming out. —Washington Star.

Don't Be Sparing of Your Love.

The power of love is one of the greatest gifts to humanity. It generates the sunshine of the moral universe, without which life would be a desert waste. Use this divine power without stint. Be prodigal of your love. Let it radiate freely. It will brighten the dark places. It will gladden the sorrowing. It will lift you above the petty, grinding cares that so soon corrode the mind and sap the energies. It is the golden key that will admit you to the palace of the true life. —Success.

Shrinking.

Once upon a time there was a Bathing Suit which was much reprehended in that it was not modest.

There was likewise at this same time also a Violet whose modesty was a matter of universal comment.

"What is your system," asked the Bathing Suit, accosting the Violet, "for I would fain be thought modest too?"

"Why, I shrink," quoth the Violet, meaning no harm.

But when the Bathing Suit shrunk in pursuance of this hint it was only reprehended the more and was finally cast away as being quite impossible. —Detroit Journal.
